

DR. LEWIS HALL PREPARED TO RUN FOR MAYORALTY

Former Mayor and Chairman of City School Board Outlines Attitude to Public Questions; Emphasizes Consolidation of Police Forces in B.C.

Dr. Lewis Hall, former Mayor of Victoria, has been invited to offer himself for the mayoralty at the forthcoming election. He promised a deputation, who invited him to allow his name to go before the public, that he would give an answer by the end of the week.

Discussing the question with The Times this morning, Dr. Hall said there had grown up in recent years a practice in Victoria of allowing the retiring Mayor an election by acclamation for a second term. That, however, was not the case in his own experience, as after his term in 1908 he was opposed at the election of 1909, when he was again returned.

The only point which has prevented him returning to public life after his long association with civic and school board affairs, as well as his other public work, has been the pressure of his practice, and in that respect he said arrangements were in hand which he hoped in the near future would enable him to be relieved to some extent from his professional duties.

OUTLINE OF POLICY

Dr. Hall declares himself an economist in municipal matters, and particularly opposed to the large sum which has been expended on the Johnson Street bridge. He maintains that the supervision should have been in the hands of a bridge engineer, instead of leaving the work to the city engineer, carrying other responsibilities.

Dr. Hall stresses the necessity for consolidation of the police forces of the Province, declaring that with municipal, provincial, federal and special officers operating to restrain crime, the criminal stands an excellent chance to slip between the fingers of the various law enforcement officers, and also the ratepayers under consolidation would be saved a large sum of money. He maintains that the municipal police will not be efficient so long as the jealousies between the various departments, and between the individual members of police forces prevail. The escape of "Barry," who is wanted on a charge of assault on an elderly merchant here, and recent experiences, in his judgment, point a moral. He wants to see one police force under a non-political head controlling all police-men in British Columbia.

The prospective candidate declined to commit himself on the question of the taxation of improvements, stating that the increasing demands for revenue appeared to have forced the Council to expedients which at one time seemed improbable again.

THE COMPTROLLERSHIP

While admitting that the increased number of clerks in the City Hall may be necessary due to the complications incidental to the great local and other improvements which have taken place since he was in office at the City Hall, Dr. Hall believes that the work could be better controlled, and that the Council should have chosen an official with wide municipal experience, when appointing a comptroller recently.

As a member of the School Board for two periods, one of five and the other of three years, during the former of which he was chairman of the Board, Dr. Hall believes that a separate body to control school expenditure is essential.

Dr. Hall, in addition to his two terms as Mayor, was an alderman from 1905 to 1907.

NEW CANDIDATE

A new aldermanic candidate announced to-day is J. L. Mara, a young business man of the city, polled well when he contested a seat at the Council board a year ago.

REV. DR. J. CLIFFORD DIED IN LONDON

Had Reached Great Age of Eighty-Seven

London, Nov. 20.—The Rev. John Clifford, a Baptist preacher of international prominence, died suddenly to-day in the council chamber of the Baptist Union. He was eighty-seven years old.

Dr. Clifford had served as the president of the Baptist World Alliance, the National Brotherhood Council and the World Federation of Brotherhoods. He was also a noted author.

The end came when Dr. Clifford was taking part in a meeting of the board of the Baptist Union. He had just finished moving a resolution and had taken his seat when he expired.

Born October 16, 1836, at Sawley, Derbyshire, England, John Clifford was educated at the Baptist College in Nottingham and at London University, taking his B.Sc. degree with honors in 1862 and his M.A. degree with honors in 1864. Among the honorary degrees conferred on him later were D.D., University of Chicago; LL.D., Colgate University, New York and Macmaster University, Toronto.

From 1858 till 1915 he was minister of the Praed Street and Westbourne Park Churches in London. Among the highest honors came to him was his election as president of the Baptist World Alliance, which dignity he held from 1905 till 1911. In 1879 he was president of the London Baptist Association. He was president of the Baptist Union in 1888 and 1899; president of the General Baptist Association in 1872 and 1891. TARIFF PLANS ARE JUMBLE, SAYS SIMON

Liberal Attacks Proposals of British Government in Election

Sir R. S. Horne Speaks in Glasgow; Candidate There

London, Nov. 20 (Canadian Press Cable).—Sir John Simon, Liberal, speaking at Clackhouston last night, said Premier Baldwin had set out that the object of his proposed tariff was to raise revenue. So foreign goods were to come into the country after all. He then was going to use those duties in order to negotiate reductions in foreign tariffs. What meant that he was going to take the duties off again. The whole thing was a jumble, in the opinion of Sir John.

SIR R. S. HORNE'S VIEWS

Sir Robert S. Horne, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking in Glasgow last night when accepting the Unionist nomination, referred to criticism of Lloyd George because he did not favor a preference being granted to Canada. Sir Robert said: "Mr. Asquith and Sir John Simon have been busy denouncing any preference being granted to our Dominions. Is Lloyd George now going to recant everything which in the grave months of the war, he solemnly agreed to with the Dominion Ministers? I do not for a moment believe it. He has just returned from Canada and must know of the immense pressure being applied to Canada by her great neighbor in their commercial relations."

LOYAL TO COMMONWEALTH

"It would be of infinite advantage to Canada to make a reciprocal trade agreement with the United States," Sir Robert said. "I have been through her loyalty to the throne and her place in the British Commonwealth."

"That was the spirit in Canada then (during the reciprocity election of 1911), but how long do you expect her to continue this attitude if you flout all the proposals for closer trade relations and leave her to find benefits as she may in other directions?"

FROM THEIR OWN POCKETS

Right Hon. C. A. McCurdy, speaking at Northampton last night, said that apparently the farmer was to be foisted upon by not getting what he thought he was getting. Whatever the farmer was getting, he was getting it from the pockets of the people from the Premier's fiscal scheme was first to be extracted from their own pockets.

CAPT. GILCHRIST HAS PASSED AWAY

Valuable Servant of C.P.R. Died This Morning After Brief Illness

Capt. W. L. Gilchrist, for twenty-one years a valuable servant of the Canadian Pacific Railway, passed away this morning at his residence in Nanaimo, after a short illness. He was fifty-nine years of age. He went on leave Thursday and fell ill that night. He died this morning at 7:30 o'clock.

The late Capt. Gilchrist formerly was a citizen of Victoria. He first took to marine work on this coast on the C.P.R. steamer "Islander" in February of 1898. He acted as first mate on this steamer during the Klondike gold rush, and after serving in many other coastwise steamers, he entered the C.P.R. service as master, operating on the Fraser River in June of 1902. After leaving this position he was master of nearly all the C.P.R. coastwise steamers up to the time that he took command of the Princess Patricia, plying between Nanaimo and Vancouver. He was appointed to this position in 1917, and has been with the company in this capacity ever since. He was also president of the Merchants' Marine Guild. He ran in the last provincial election, and has always taken a great interest in civic affairs.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son.

PIONEER NAVIGATOR

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Capt. William L. Gilchrist, a valuable servant of the C.P.R., died this morning at his residence in Nanaimo this morning of heart disease. With his passing, the ranks of the pioneer navigators who developed the coastline of British Columbia lose a picturesque figure, and many a story of his life and work will be missed. GOVERNMENT PARTY IN BULGARIA GIVEN A GREAT MAJORITY

Washington, Nov. 20.—Lothar Witzke, a German, is to-day investigating the cause of the fire which last night destroyed the new grandstand at the Brighouse racetrack. The fact that the blaze started in the same place as the configuration which destroyed the grandstand about a year ago, is regarded as more than a coincidence. The loss was to-day placed at $40,000.

Search For Girl Who Disappeared in Seattle Fails

Seattle, Nov. 20.—Despite a search of the Northwest by police, theatrical agencies and others, no trace of sixteen-year-old Marguerite Hessler, a violinist who was appearing on the Pantages Theatre circuit, and who disappeared mysteriously in Seattle Sunday night, has been found, it was announced to-day.

HOTEL AND GOLF LINKS FOR CITY'S BIG TOURIST RESORT AT ELK LAKE

Victoria's plans for a big tourist resort at Elk Lake, with a hotel and golf links and fresh water bathing beaches, were revealed before M. B. Jackson's House Committee on Municipal Affairs at the Legislature to-day.

It came out before the committee, when Victoria's Private Bill was up, that for some time the city has had men laying out a full eighteen-hole golf course there, that negotiations are being carried on for the construction and operation of a tourist hotel there and that other improvements are being actually worked out to turn the city's property at Elk Lake into a great resort.

Alderman Todd explained that the work was being carried on by the City Council under specific powers granted by the Legislature in 1919.

FRESH WATER BEACH

"The construction of the golf links is only a small portion of the whole development," Alderman Todd said. "The links will only occupy a fraction of the total area. We have plans for washing down the sand cribs and making a beach for fresh water bathing available to everyone."

Alderman Todd explained that four or five acres of land is to be leased to the hotel. This plot will be in the center of the links and running back to River Lane. Nine holes of golf will be laid out on either side of the hotel. The city is to take $10,000 of stock in the hotel company on the same basis as the other shareholders of the company. The lease will run for thirty years.

These golf links are to be operated as public links open without restriction to the public and at a low price, similar to municipal courses in other cities, the alderman said. He explained the location of the hotel and resort property on the East Saanich Road, just which all motor tourists pass on their way from the American carries into Victoria.

Alderman Todd said that the golf links turned down by the people a couple of years ago were proposed for leased land, but these links are being constructed on city land, tax free.

"We have the land, and so if we can put a link on it and give our citizens and visitors pleasure and enjoyment, why not?" Alderman Todd asked.

John Dean appeared before the committee to protest against the Elk Lake development and against the present vogue of golf.

PROTESTED SCHEME

John Dean appeared before the committee to protest against the Elk Lake scheme. He declared that the Victoria had enough golf links and that the municipal links at Elk Lake would lose large sums of money.

"People have gone golfing in the Victoria," he declared. "He who has a golf club is not a golfer. That doctor was evidently beaten 6 up and 5 to play," Mr. Jackson suggested.

"Golf links, Mr. Dean asserted, were unnecessary to bring tourists. "When you mention our liquor to Americans their mouths water," he declared.

Finally Mr. Jackson took up Mr. Dean's sporting offer. The terms of the bet are that Mr. Dean produce five medical men who will not say that golf is the best exercise and recreation known. The stakes of $25 are being put up and a memorandum drawn up this afternoon by Mr. Dean to have the bet decided by the Parliament Buildings at 10 o'clock to find out if there are any golfers in Victoria who are hostile to golf.

New Law to Abolish Beer Clubs; Local License Cancelled

Proprietary beer clubs now operating all over British Columbia will be wiped out by new legislation to be introduced during the present session of the Legislature, Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General, announced to delegates of the Union of B.C. Municipalities who waited upon Premier Oliver and members of the Provincial Government to discuss municipal affairs this morning.

While the Government's new beer legislation will abolish proprietary clubs it will be difficult to distinguish between legitimate and illegitimate clubs, the Attorney-General admitted.

Municipalities have not assisted the Government in enforcing liquor laws, Mr. Manson declared.

Mr. Manson asked the Union of Municipalities to preach respect for law. If this were done conditions would improve by fifty per cent, he asserted.

Following Mr. Manson's announcement to the municipal delegates that beer clubs are to be abolished it was announced that the Government by Order-in-Council had cancelled the license of the Hellenic Canadian Club here.

HALIBUT TREATY BEFORE U.S. SENATE

Pact With Canada is to be Submitted Again

To Omit Provision Applying to All British Nationals

Washington, Nov. 20 (Canadian Press).—The Halibut Fisheries Treaty between Canada and the United States is to be re-submitted to the Senate, it was learned to-day. The treaty was ratified by the United States Senate on March 4 last, but with a provision making it applicable to all British nationals.

As it was negotiated solely by Canada and dealt with matters of purely Canadian interest, this provision made its application impossible. It is understood that when it is re-submitted an attempt will be made to secure ratification in the form in which it was signed.

Premier of Belgium, supported by his Cabinet colleagues, has approved the proposal of the Allied Council of Ambassadors that a note be sent to Berlin regarding Allied military supervision in Germany. The note is being prepared.

NO LIKELIHOOD OF DISAGREEMENT WITH FRANCE, SAY BRITISH

Danger Has Passed, Officials in London Believe; Note Will Inform Berlin Allies Intent to Resume Military Inspection in Germany and Hold German Ministry Responsible For Good Behavior of ex-Crown Prince and Supporters

London, Nov. 20.—British Government officials considered this morning that all danger of disagreement with France on the question of the return of the former Crown Prince to Germany and the resumption of inter-Allied military control in Germany had passed. They expected that the Council of Ambassadors would reach a compromise unless an unforeseen obstacle should interpose at the last moment.

It was pointed out that the question was now largely one of appropriate phraseology in which to strike a level between the two divergent viewpoints. The forecast here was along these lines: The proposed joint note to Germany will not be in the form of an ultimatum, nor will it give the Germans a time limit within which they must comply with the Allies' conditions. Neither will it demand an immediate formal reply. It will be mainly in the character of a firm, peremptory notice to Berlin that the Allies intend to reinstate Allied inspection of German armaments in certain chosen areas still under the authority of the central Government.

On the question of the former Crown Prince, the note will hold the German Cabinet responsible for any overt or covert attempts at restoration of the Hohenzollern dynasty.

British officials consider that their diplomats have won a partial victory over the French, but they show no disposition to exult over it.

AMBASSADORS TO MEET TO-MORROW

Paris, Nov. 20.—The meeting of the Council of Ambassadors called for 5 o'clock this afternoon will not be held, it was announced shortly after 4 p.m. Lord Crewe, the British Ambassador, said that the meeting that his Government, owing to stress of business, was unable to communicate his instructions in time for to-day's meeting. The instructions are expected to arrive in time for a meeting to-morrow.

NOTE TO GERMANY BEING WRITTEN

Paris, Nov. 20.—It was believed here this morning that the agreement on the proposed note to Germany in which the Allies will demand that their military control officers shall be allowed to function in the country, would be completed before the end of the afternoon.

The official optimism which prevailed among the circles as to the outcome of the Ambassadors' Council meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the Ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily be sent to Berlin.

EFFECT ON GERMAN COURSE

There is marked scepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German Government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the Entente powers and concerning which the Government officials observe great discretion is that the rift between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridged and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreement among the Allies and the French view, to speculate on disagreement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

OPTIMISM IN PARIS REPORTED

Paris, Nov. 20.—After six days of negotiations, four meetings and adjournments, the Allied Council of Ambassadors has hit on a compromise formula dealing with Germany which, even if it only postpones to a later date the decision as to whether or not to accept the German proposal, at least it also postpones a break in the Allied front. It is hoped that both practical and political reasons will lead to a decision to-day was just as optimistic as it was pessimistic yesterday, for the agreement to send a note to Germany has been fully endorsed by the French and Belgian Cabinets and judgments from the tone of London, will be endorsed by the British.

GEN. NOLLET TO ACT

The accepted plan of action, according to the present understanding of it, seems to throw a considerable burden on General Nollet, head of the Mission, who has been recalled to make a further report on the whole situation. If such a decision is made, General Nollet is convinced that the German authorities are desirous of the application of penalties provided they are of a non-territorial nature. This arrangement is regarded as a basis for the continuance of the negotiations.

the old Hotel Lyman at Lake Quinsigamond, rushed into the burning building to rescue her infant. Rushing back into the building, she brought the baby out.

TREATY DECLARATION INDICATES ADVANCE

Dominions Benefit From Imperial Conference, Says
Winnipeg Editor

Gathering Was Real Conference, Declares J. W. Dafoe

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—"The Imperial Conference Just ended was a real conference," said John W. Dafoe, editor of The Manitoba Free Press, upon his arrival from London yesterday. It was valuable because it was a conference of Governments and not, as had been the case formerly, something in the nature of a super-Cabinet of the Empire.

While they sidestepped the question of a formal definition of the status of the Dominions, said Mr. Dafoe, "the delegates did what really amounted to a definition of status when they formally affirmed and recognized the right of the Dominions to make their own treaties and to secure ratification, assuming the entire responsibility for it, as it did, their right to advise the King directly without having first to secure the approval of the British Government. This really ought to settle without further discussion the moot point as to whether the Dominions are of equal status in the international world with Great Britain. It appears the initiative in this matter was taken by the Foreign Office itself. "It was not due to urgency by the Dominions; it was a recognition by the Foreign Office that developments during the last four or five years had made the old policy obsolete. "Canada was adequately represented at the conference," Mr. Dafoe said. Premier King made a very good impression, both at his public meetings and at the sessions themselves, where it was understood that his attitude and suggestions had much to do with the fact that it was a conference and nothing else, and the tendency of two years ago to turn it into a Cabinet of the Empire was definitely abandoned.

At the Economic Conference also, Mr. Dafoe thought, the Dominion was extremely well served by its delegates. He believed the service of Prof. O. D. Skelton, in particular, had been of great service to the Prime Minister.

Referring to the offers of trade preference which had been made to the Dominions by the British Government during the conference, and the coming British election, Mr. Dafoe would not express a personal opinion as to the result. He said the judgment of the majority, so far as he could determine, was that the Government, which represents a minority of the total electorate, will either get no majority at all in the next Parliament or the majority will be so narrow as to make it impossible for it to carry out its policies.

LIBERALS ATTACK FOREIGN POLICY

Party Leaders Issue Manifesto to Electors of Great Britain

London, Nov. 20.—The Liberal election manifesto, made public last night, is an exceedingly long document, more effective as an attack on the Government policy abroad than as affording any novel constructive policy for meeting the problem of unemployment. It is signed by H. H. Asquith and David Lloyd George.

Its chief interest lies in showing there can be no real accommodation between Liberalism and Laborism, for it frankly declares its conviction that the remedies the Labor party proposes for unemployment, namely, Socialism and a capital levy, would "prove disastrous" and that what is needed is no destruction of enterprise but its encouragement; not the frightening away of capital, but its fruitful use.

FOREIGN POLICY FAILURE

The manifesto declares there is only one explanation for the Government's sudden decision—that in the single year Parliament has lasted the Government's conduct of foreign policy has signally and disastrously failed. Asserting that the Government's dispatches to the Allies make admission that the collapse of Germany arising from the French policy is the cause of the disaster in which British trade is plunged, the manifesto continues:

"In no great European question for a century past has it ever been doubtful where Britain stood, yet for a whole year neither our Allies nor the neutral powers, nor our late enemies, have known whether in this crucial issue Great Britain had a voice, a mind or a conscience of her own."

TARIFF QUESTION

Dealing with the Government's tariff proposals, the manifesto says: "Trade restrictions cannot cure unemployment, since high prices and scarcity can only lower the standard of living and reduce the purchasing power of the country, and thereby curtail production. Premier Baldwin asks for a bank cheque, and if he is wrong the country must take the risk; he offers no evidence, formulates no scheme."

The manifesto declares the Liberal policy on unemployment is to make bold and courageous use of the nation's credit on enterprises to improve permanently and develop the home country and the Empire, such as transport, forestry, the supply of cheap power and other public works, like railways, and furthermore to remodel completely the Unemployment Insurance Act, and to take all possible steps to promote co-operation between employers and employees.

MACDONALD SPOKE

I Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, spoke last night at Northampton, starting on a big campaign tour through the west of England.

He charged former Premier Lloyd George with responsibility for the high unemployment in Great Britain on the ground that his reparations policy was the beginning of all the evil things that had happened to Europe.

A capital levy, by reducing the public debt and helping to reduce unemployment and improve the conditions of the masses.

LOSS OF NATURAL GAS AND OIL GREAT

Facts Proved by Survey of Fields in U.S.

Flooding, Seepage, Waste and Negligence Causes

Washington, Nov. 17.—Losses of natural gas and oil, through flooding, seepage, waste and negligence, in the various fields in the United States have been enormous, according to statements of the Interior Department based upon a recent survey by the Bureau of Mines.

While the oil and gas industry has progressed steadily and has been practically revolutionized during the sixty-four years of its existence, losses have run into untold millions of dollars of gas and gallons of oil. Flooding of oil sands by water has irreparably damaged entire oil and gas fields, the water trapping underground oil that probably never will be recovered. Water in an oil well so increases lifting costs that many wells are abandoned before the normal recovery of oil and gas is obtained.

HOLES IN CASING
Corrosive waters attack casing and eventually eat holes in it. Operators in the Kansas Eldorado field alone expend thousands of dollars annually replacing casing, tubing, sucker rods and other equipment so destroyed.

Although "blow-outs" and "wild wells" were formerly the greatest factors in the loss, modern equipment has made it easier to muzzle the unchecked flows. The old practice of allowing "gushers" to waste oil and gas unchecked until the force either was stopped by cave-ins or decreased an appreciable amount, has been done away with, but not before millions of dollars' worth of the natural resources were lost. In the early days of the Cushing field in Oklahoma, in 1912 and 1913, it is estimated 100,000,000 feet of gas were wasted daily. Large flowing wells which produced from 1,000,000 to 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily were allowed to flow. Until recently no use was made of gas produced in the Salt Creek field of Wyoming and the daily loss was estimated at 42,500,000 cubic feet.

NEARLY HALF WASTED
In 1912 the total amount of gas consumed throughout the country was 662,652,000,000 cubic feet, while the loss of casing-head gas alone was estimated at 141,000,000,000 feet in that year. It seems probable that from one-third to one-half of all the gas produced is wasted, the Bureau's study shows.

LOSS OF GASOLINE

Production of gasoline from natural gas was started in 1904 and while the amount recovered has increased by leaps and bounds yearly, it is estimated that since that year at least 2,500,000,000 gallons of gasoline have been wasted, or twice the amount recovered. More than 25,000,000 gallons of gasoline must have been lost in the Hewitt field, in Oklahoma, alone, during this time. From 20,000,000 to 40,000,000 gallons were lost in the Eldorado field.

Emulsions with water cause another great loss. Engineers estimate the production of "cut" oil in the Mid-Continent and Gulf Coast fields in 1920 and 1921 at about 100,000,000 barrels, while half of this was lost at an estimated waste of $100,000,000.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE OPPOSES BALDWIN

No Acclamation For British Premier; Asquith Candidate in Paisley

London, Nov. 20. (Canadian Press Cable)—Premier Baldwin is being opposed in his own constituency, the Bowdley Division of Worcestershire, by Sardinia Hancock, formerly Liberal agent in West Worcestershire, who ran against Mr. Baldwin last November and reduced his majority by 7,000.

"Prime Ministers have been beaten before by nonentities," Hancock said, and so he stays on Baldwin's trail.

ASQUITH IN PAISLEY

Former Premier Asquith's chances for re-election in Paisley appear to be improved by the incursion of an independent Labor candidate, a local councillor named Brown who owns a horse cab which he piles for hire in Paisley. Brown admits that his real object in entering the contest is to defeat J. M. Higgan, the official Labor and Co-operative candidate, who fought against Asquith for the seat in the last general election. Asquith's majority was 316.

CHURCHILL'S FIGHT

Winston Churchill will have a hard fight in West Leicester. This town at one time was as hot a battleground in its Liberalism as Birmingham in its Conservatism, but in the last election returned the Labor candidate, A. HILL. Churchill's Unionist opponent will be Captain Alfred Instone, who ran in Paddington, London, last November. The Labor candidate in West Leicester is P. LAWRENCE, a barrister, who was a conspicuous advocate of women's suffrage in its violent era a few years ago. Such was his ardor for the cause that he spent a good part of his large fortune and went to prison more than once in the fight for the vote for women.

LADY ASTOR'S FIGHT

The Sutton Division of Plymouth, where Lady Astor holds sway, promises to be the scene of a hot contest, says the Plymouth correspondent of The Evening Standard. It is very much a working-class district and the Labor Party has again for its champion Captain G. W. Brennan, who in the last election received 10,833 votes to Lady Astor's 13,824. The Liberals are undecided whether to name a candidate.

HONEST INTENTIONS

Rt. Hon. W. C. Bridgeman, Home Secretary, addressing a gathering at Oswestry, said the electorate should trust the premier and back him, because he was one of the most honest politicians possible. He was going to solve the unemployment problem by facing the competition of the whole world handicapped by the system under which the Mother Country labored.

Years of suffering—
powerful drugs that helped but could not cure
—then at last genuine, vigorous health

That was the story of the busy executive whose letter is published above. That has been the story of thousands of yeast enthusiasts during the past four years.

Physicians agree that most cases of constipation—skin trouble—stomach disorders are due simply to wrong habits of living and eating. Medicine cannot really cure, it can only relieve the symptoms temporarily. The body must build itself back to health and strength.

Fleischmann's Yeast is not a medicine in any sense of the word. But where the trouble is really due to a disordered stomach and intestinal tract, this fresh natural food contains the very elements that the body needs to restore itself.

The millions of tiny living plants in each cake of Fleischmann's Yeast aid digestion, and give the intestinal muscles normal healthy exercise. And the rich vitamin and protein content of the yeast increases the white corpuscles in the blood, and gives new tone and vigor to the entire system.

There is the whole secret of the power of Fleischmann's Yeast. That is why thousands of men and women are finding it a simple, effective, health restorer when everything else has failed. The skin clears. The poisonous waste which collects daily in the intestines is regularly removed. Genuine, vigorous health is the result.

Remember that Fleischmann's Yeast for Health comes only in the tinfoil wrapper and cannot be purchased in tablet form. All grocers have it. Eat two or three cakes a day regularly—before or between meals—plain, dissolved in water or milk, or spread on crackers or bread.

AN URGENT NEED

Discussion that is now under way between the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the City of Victoria is the beginning of an interchange which the people of this community hope will result in the construction and operation of an Amusement Centre.

It goes without saying that there are a number of considerations that will have to be taken into account on both sides before negotiations will reach the stage where the necessary by-laws will be prepared. It will be appreciated that the company is willing to accept the major responsibility involved in the initial outlay as well as in the provision of such funds as may be necessary during the period in which an attraction of this kind would be establishing its popularity at home and building up a reputation among the ever-increasing number of visitors who look upon Victoria as a fixed point of call and sojourn in the annual holiday itinerary.

Apart from the negotiations between the company and the city, there stand out quite clearly to all and sundry two important facts. The taxpayers of this community are not in a position to finance an undertaking of this kind at the present time. Only a private company can do it, and of private companies the C.P.R. is the only one willing to do it. Moreover, the public is convinced that one of the most urgent requirements of this locality is the very project whose inauguration will be conditional upon its verdict.

It is not necessary to dwell upon the benefits that should be reaped from the operation of an Amusement Centre. The indirect revenue alone is bound to prove much greater than the value of the concessions it might be desirable to make. In the meantime we are confident that negotiations will culminate in the submission of a proposal that will be satisfactory to the community as a whole.

THE PRUSSIAN LEOPARD

Although General Ludendorff attempted to overthrow the German state he is not going to be prosecuted. The Ottawa Citizen points out that when Karl Liebknecht tried to do the same thing because in his opinion Germany had staged a sham revolution to escape the consequences of her assault upon the rest of the world, the German authorities permitted a mob to murder him. The reason for the difference in the treatment accorded the two rebels, of course, lay in the fact that Liebknecht denounced Germany's guilt in 1914, while Ludendorff was one of the promoters of the war and the brutalities with which Germany conducted her operations.

The recent Ludendorff incident is significant enough. The permission for the return of the former German Crown Prince to Germany, defiantly given by the German Government, is much more so. Confident that she has accomplished what she set out to do, that is, that she has driven a wedge between Great Britain and France, Germany feels that she can give the former allies a slap in the face with perfect impunity. During the war she struck at British commerce with her submarines in the hope of driving her island foe from the circle of her enemies. Therein she failed, but as soon as the war was over she schemed to detach Britain from France by demoralizing her own economic conditions with a special eye to its effect upon British industry, judging that Britain was more concerned with the restoration of her commerce than she was with her particular share of war reparations.

Just how much further she will go in the belief that she has blackmailed Britain from the side of France remains to be seen. The Prussian leopard does not change its spots when it called itself another name. The deliberate debasing of German currency, not to speak of scores of other manifestations, proved that there had been no sudden miraculous moral regeneration after forty years of saturation with Prussian immorality, in the brief transition from Hohenzollern to Ebert. The thing was simply impossible. And as long as Germany is permitted, out of tender consideration for the exigencies of international profit, to retain the idea that she can try to destroy her neighbors and escape the consequences imposed by elementary justice; if she is going to be allowed to stick to the medieval theory that war, no matter how provoked and carried on is merely an affair of honor, like a duel, with little or no penalties for the aggressor to meet, she always will remain Prussianized. Germany since 1918 has been after two objectives. One is to escape the payment of adequate reparations in such a way as to put her in a better economic position than her former foes and quickly outstrip them in recovery from the conflict; the other is to isolate France by playing upon the commercial susceptibilities of Great Britain and the United States. And she has had substantial success so far.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS MEETING

There should be a large and enthusiastic gathering in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce this evening. The object of the meeting is to form a Victoria branch of the League of Nations Society of Canada. Sir George Foster already has explained the subject in detail to audiences in this city and to audiences in all the principal towns and cities of the Dominion. The next step is a recruiting campaign among the general public in order that active members of an organization may stimulate the will to peace among the population as a whole. When this has been done throughout Canada and the message carried to all the peoples of the rest of the world there will be some prospect of universal and permanent peace. Meanwhile the local branch of the League of Nations Society should be employed as the educative medium.

THE LATE DR. CLIFFORD

At a moment when he had just moved a resolution as part of the business of the Council of the Baptist Union this morning the Grim Reaper laid the hand of death upon Dr. John Clifford and Nonconformist Britain was robbed of one of its most striking figures.

The late Dr. Clifford was eighty-seven years of age and the greater part of his long and distinguished career as a Baptist minister and preacher of international prominence had been spent in London—first at Praed Street and for fifty-seven years at Westbourne Park Chapel—and it was not until the eve of his eightieth birthday that he ceased to occupy the pulpit twice a day on Sunday. Even then only a sympathetic regard for the conservation of his remaining strength and energy persuaded a loyal congregation to forego the services and continual counsel of a pastor who successfully discharged a Christian duty by the deliverance of a simple and practical message.

While this distinguished personality and bulwark of the Baptist denomination in Britain was famous as a preacher, the late Dr. Clifford was also an author of distinguished attainments as well as the recipient of the greatest honors that many movements towards universal brotherhood could bestow.

From his earliest boyhood Dr. Clifford was an ardent Liberal and only the other day he was quoted in the daily press in connection with the forthcoming election and Britain's policies in general. He was a member of the National Liberal Club and the Eighty Club.

Note and Comment

Adolph Hitler, leader of the Bavarian Fascists, is reported to be suffering from brain fever. Other dictators and leaders of Fascist please note!

In case our readers are becoming confused about their dates we beg to remind them that this is the twentieth day of November and not the twentieth day of May.

It is suggested that Mr. Winston Churchill will have a stiff fight in Leicester. It is a highly industrialized city and is at present represented by a Laborite. "Winnie" may hear an echo of "Labor is not fit to govern" before the campaign is very old.

We shall hope that the dance which the local branch of the Tuberculous Veterans' Association is holding at the Alexandra ballroom to-night will be well patronized. These men are doing a fine work without ostentation and with very slender funds. They are entitled to practical and liberal support.

Lady Bathurst, proprietress of The London Morning Post, declares that most women are of more use in domestic service than in business life. What else could the proprietress of The Post say? This "eminently respectable" London journal sniffs at the "middle classes" and would still call the Dominions Colonies and govern them from Downing Street. Lady Bathurst is a brilliant and capable business woman; but she will have to acknowledge that her native land is producing others.

Our Contemporaries

GERMANY'S BOND

London Daily Telegraph:—Whatever form of government comes into existence in Germany, it will be required by Allied policy to recognize and to honor the national obligations. Upon that there can be no more difference of view among the Allied governments than there has been in the past; and whoever they may be who rule in Berlin, they can take that at least for granted as a fixed element in the problem confronting them.

WESTWARD GRAIN MOVEMENT

Toronto Globe:—It is now certain that at some point in Alberta, if not further east, a large part of the wheat will move west instead of east, and it may be expected that in Alberta and in British Columbia there will be manufacturing centres rivaling those of the East, supplying to some extent Western needs, and also consuming a considerable part of the Western farmers' products. Coal and water power, two of the great bases of industry, are so abundant in the Far West that industrial development on a large scale seems to be inevitable.

BUY A PIE

To the Editor:—We are reading your story on the unfortunate departure of Commander Players. It is again alluded to in to-day's Column by Winifred Allen.

De Mortuis nil nisi bonum—an old saying and one that is very much in evidence in our beautiful variegated Victoria, whether it refers to public bodies, public officials, or in fact any one who may have endeavored to benefit his fellowman, and by that same fellowman has been relegated to oblivion, be this Mayor, City Council, etc., etc., and now the Compton Players.

Winifred Allen's concluding remark brings to my mind a very old story:—
Two men passed through Oxford together. One succeeded financially, the other became an utter failure. Success met failure on the street. Failure vended pies. Success expressed his sorrow that failure should be so far down in the world, to which the Huckerster replied:—"D— your sympathy, buy a pie."

THE WATERFRONT LOCKOUT

To the Editor:—A few days ago there appeared a news item in the local press informing the public that a new organization of waterfront workers had been successfully formed and that the business of the waterfront would suffer as a result of the lockout of the members of the Longshoremen's Union.

In view of the foregoing it is very disquieting to read the news contained in The Colonist of November 16 and 17. It is there stated that Victoria money (is being) towed to Seattle and that the port is losing as a result of the strike on the waterfront. It is alleged that the Hornet has taken away a load of lumber which might have been loaded in Victoria and two more scows will be taken away to-day. It is to-day stated that the Bee and the Wasp have similarly taken away business which might have been retained at this port, and that "they have left their stings behind."

It, therefore, appears that the amateur workers of the new organization are not functioning very satisfactorily, and that in fact Victoria is losing valuable business as a result of the waterfront labor dispute. Would it not appear therefore very desirable for the employers to recede from the untenable position they have chosen to occupy. They have stubbornly refused to negotiate the matters in dispute and are showing that they are directly responsible for the loss of business which the port is sustaining. The B.C. Shipping Federation, which has this brought upon the tradesmen and citizens of Victoria. The International Union of Longshoremen has always been ready and willing to meet the B.C. Shipping Federation at a round table conference, but their overtures have been persistently refused. VICTORIA AND DISTRICT TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL.

CHINESE GARDENERS

To the Editor:—Having paid several visits to the Potato Exhibition, I wish to express my great appreciation of the same, and also of the credit due to Mr. Tice. It is truly a great step in advance and shows what can be done by the white potato growers in this Province. It would be quite impossible for any of the Chinese growers to show anywhere near such a show, and they know it.

Why, then, are some of us being driven out by their competition? They cannot and do not either raise as large or as good crops of potatoes or any other vegetable as we can. But they put it all over us in their distribution. A Chinaman will come to your door in the morning and sell you five cents' worth of potatoes or any other vegetable and carry them right into your kitchen. He brings his goods right to you. You don't have to go to his store and order them to be sent next day, or telephone to him and take a chance on what will be delivered. You see what he has and get from him as much as you like, and he is pleased to serve you, and you serve the kids running out and chaffing with him, and his regular and unfailing arrival at the same time every week or oftener is one of the events that is looked forward to by them. The white bakers and milkmen deliver from house to house at regular hours. Why don't the white vegetable and fruit growers do so? Mere inefficiency and lack of co-operative skill! Note that the Chinese who deliver these goods are not the ones who grow them. They buy from the Chinese growers of some time and resell at a small profit. Their prices are always governed by those charged in the white stores, and by arrangement among themselves they just undersell the white dealers and add the advantages of delivery and personal canvass and solicitation for orders. There seemed to be more discussion over this question of Chinese competition than over the quality of the spuds amongst the visitors at the show. One man said the Chinese were better gardeners than the whites because they were running round in the mud dressed in blue paint. So they were, and no doubt they were about as good then as they are now, and so they will be probably in another thousand or two years. If they really were better than we are we should send our sons over to China to learn the business, and then we could have the Chinese men as Tice. Are there any boys on gardening and plant breeding translated from the Chinese for our benefit? Where are the Chinese Banks and Baileys and Surveys and Eckfords and Spencers and do Vries and Percival and Cants and Dicksons and so on in an endless list? Where are the Chinese Planet Jr. implements? What artificial manures have they provided? Do they give us potatoes? or do they get them from us? Do we get our seeds from them? Where are their apples and oranges? They have been at it a much longer time than us yet, what progress are they making? As for their work—how long would these Chinese laborers last in the truck gardens round London and in France and Holland? Not two hours. The Chinese invented or discovered gunpowder long before us. What did they do with it? Made fireworks! They had fine sailing junks when we were poking about in coracles, but they still use the same junks while we have something a little better, and growing still better. If the white gardeners would get the best seeds in the world (locally grown) and arrange their disposition to suit their customers instead of themselves they could beat the Chinese out of sight in short order.

ESQUIMALT PLANS TO ENTERTAIN ITS VISITORS NEXT YEAR

Plans for Public Park and Playgrounds Approved

"Come Play With Us," will be Esquimalt's municipal motto in 1924. If the incoming council see eye to eye with the sitting body in regard to the creation of a Memorial Park—plans drawn by Hubert Savage for the War Memorial committee and presented to the council in session last night, won approval. While not desirous of taking action at this stage the council were unanimous in saying that the plans should be laid before next year's council with a recommendation that they be accepted. Engineer Bourne will be asked for an estimate of cost.

The plans call for a well laid out park immediately north of the Municipal Hall site, on the north side of the Esquimalt Road, and between there and the Old Esquimalt Road. A bowling green, four tennis courts, and a children's playground, featuring swings and sand pit, are suggested. The council last night passed a park setting aside the site for park purposes and providing for the collection of fees for the grounds. General admittance to the park, it was planned, would be free.

In the centre of the park will stand the war memorial to be erected by the citizens of the municipality as a permanent tribute to the memory of those of Esquimalt who lost their lives in the war.

In a busy agenda the council gave first and second reading to the new Sewer Connection By-law which gives the engineering powers of sanitary supervision and calls for the application for plumbing permits. Penalties under the by-law, which only awaits final reading, are provided up to a maximum of $100.

A by-law to regulate signs and hoardings received two readings. Under this measure all wishing to erect signs must apply to the engineer for permission and pay a fee of $2 for that privilege. The council reserves the right to refuse permission where any sign may be offensive. A fine of $100, maximum, may be exacted under its terms for an infraction.

The Gorge Bridge By-law, a measure considered jointly with Sanich to stop dangerous driving off that structure, was tabled as unseasonable. Esquimalt, it had been stated, had rights over one-half of the bridge and Sanich controlled the remainder. At present it is illegal to drive from the Sanich side, but within the law to drop off from the Esquimalt end of the same bridge. The temperature of the water, however, would not encourage such practices at this time, it was decided.

Reeve Lockley, with Counsellors Anderson and Nichol, will form the Court of Revision on the voters' list, to sit on December 10. Counsellors Nichol and Mesher were appointed to a committee to assist in locating football grounds for an Esquimalt team now inconvenienced by a lack of adequate grounds. Permission to hold a tag day was granted readily to the Salvation Army.

A communication from the Jubilee Hospital Drive committee, asking moral support, was received and the council decided it would reply the coming winter, but pointing out that it had a memorial project of its own. A ratapaper on Plumstead Street, stating that she had paid taxes for twelve years and was still without the convenience of a sidewalk, will be assured of an early visit from the engineer who was authorized to take what steps were necessary to set the matter right. Other minor matters were transacted before adjournment.

CARNIVAL BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Gay Event Commemorated Sixty-Fifth Birthday of Province

The Carnival Ball held last night at the Empress Hotel by the Lady Douglas Chapter, L.O.D.E., to commemorate the sixty-fifth birthday of the Province of British Columbia was socially and financially a great success, the credit being due to the untiring efforts of the regent of the chapter, Mrs. R. B. McKicking.

From 7 to 9 o'clock the tiny tots enjoyed their part of the programme, which was also a pleasing sight to many interested spectators.

At 10 o'clock His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor entered the ballroom accompanied by Mrs. Henry Croft, and Major and Mrs. Seldon Humphreys, and in a short speech touched on the date being commemorated and extended a hearty welcome to the assembled guests.

JUDGING

The task of judging the fancy costumes was left to Mrs. Tyrell Goldsmith, Mrs. James Harvey and Mrs. W. H. Green. After much deliberation prizes were awarded to the following: Miss Gloria Wilson, who was lovely in a butterfly costume; and Master Douglas Cree, who was most striking in a sunflower costume. In the evening the judging was carried out by Mrs. W. J. Bowser, Mrs. R. P. Green and Mrs. W. H. Green, past regent of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 2, and the prize for the best-dressed lady was given to Mrs. Douglas Macdonald, in a beautiful turquoise velvet gown, with lace, and the prize for the most historic costume was given to Mrs. Duncan McTavish, who wore a handsome yellow silk dress which had formed a part of the trousseau of her husband's aunt, Mrs. Higgins, granddaughter of Sir James Douglas. Mr. Johnston, who appeared as Robin Hood, was given the prize for the best-dressed man, and Mr. Charles Day as Sir Francis Drake, was given the prize as the most historic figure.

BATTLE OF FLOWERS

Professor Lou Turner's orchestra supplied the dance music for the children and for the adults, and Miss Thain kindly played the extras. The main event of the children's party was the Battle of Flowers, when the little guests with roses and rose petals as their ammunition, pelted each other most enthusiastically, and after a dance in the flower-carpeted hall, formed into a grand march, headed by the Pied Piper of Hamelin, into supper in the dining-room. Little Gloria Wilson charmed all by dancing a delightful pas seul, and Rosemary Nasrath, Vilda Rithet, and Kathleen Wilson danced a "Pierrot" dance. These dances were repeated later in the evening.

A graceful gavotte added much to the pleasure of the guests, and eight young ladies, headed by Mrs. W. H. Wilson, appeared in picturesque medieval costumes, executing the steps most skilfully. The dancers included Mrs. W. H. Muncy, Miss K. Jaffray, Miss B. McDonald, Miss J. Hodgkinson, Miss Gladys McMillan and Miss M. Chaplin. Mrs. Jaffray played the piano accompaniment.

Mah Jong was also played by those guests who did not join in the dancing, the private dining-room being thrown into use for this purpose. The carnival dance was held under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the Premier and Mrs. Oliver, Senator and Mrs. R. F. Green, and His Worship Mayor Hayward. The reception committee included Mrs. R. B. McKicking, Mrs. C. D. Schofield, Mrs. Dennis Harris, Lady McBride, Miss Christine, Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Mrs. Green, Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mrs. R. L. Phillips, Mrs. R. L. Miller, Mr. Frank Sehl officiated as master of ceremonies.

Among the guests were Mrs. Bowser, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. R. P. Rithet, Mrs. P. A. E. Irving, Mrs. Charles Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McTavish, Major and Mrs. Douglas Macdonald, Miss Vivian Matson, Mr. and Mrs. Brae, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sehl, Mr. and Mrs. Umbach, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. The Kitchen Slate

The home-maker's bridge club had met that afternoon, and she came home at dusk with a package under her arm which spelled "prize" in every line. The home-maker generally came home from the bridge club with a package under her arm. She had luck and "card sense."

"What did you win this time?" asked her husband, curiously. She drew out from its tissue paper wrappings a little slate pen-cil and pad of cotton attached to the kind popularly called for keeping bridge scores. "I looked at it thoughtfully. 'What to do with it—what to do,' she murmured. 'I don't like slates

M. Johnson, Miss Stoddard, Mrs. W. J. Croft, Mrs. J. H. CHILD IMMIGRATION, SUBJECT OF TALK BY JUDGE MAGILL

Head of Vancouver Juvenile Court Addressed Local Council of Women

At the regular monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women held yesterday afternoon in the Island Arts and Crafts rooms, Judge Helen Magill, of the Juvenile Court of Vancouver, gave a most interesting talk on the question of Child Immigration, as it affects the Young People of Canada. At present Canada is involved in a scheme of child immigration whereby the Dominion Government and the Imperial Government are contributing $40 each for each child brought out. In addition to this scheme, various organizations as the Barnados Homes, the Salvation Army, the Overseas Settlements are fetching out children. The last organization alone plans to bring out 6,000 boys during 1923 and 1924.

Mrs. Magill stated that all such immigrants had medical tests made, but not psychological tests and quoted figures, based on one case where a feeble-minded woman had been allowed to enter a country and what it had ultimately cost the Government to support her children. The question as to the placement of the immigrant child in rural homes was discussed and the case cited of a boy who was allowed to die unattended in a fifth home, showed how necessary it was that arrangements should be made for the supervision of locating children in homes.

LABOR QUESTION

In the opinion of Mrs. Magill, child immigration affected the labor question, as the untrained boy or girl drifting into cities from the country was prepared to accept lower wages.

AT THE THEATRES

Metro Picture at Capitol Dramatic in Its Presentation

Reginald Barker has done it again! The man who made "The Storm" and "Hearts-A-Flame" has added another supreme dramatic achievement to his credit in "The Eternal Struggle," the Metro picture now playing at the Capitol Theatre. The story is superbly handled and keeps one enthralled throughout the entire unfoldment.

The cast is in keeping with the superior direction, for each one of the players is a top-notch who could star in an ordinary production. Renee Adoree, who is a comparative newcomer to the films, as Andree Grange; the tempestuous little French Canadian, gives a performance that ranks her among the great stars at the top of the ladder. Pat O'Malley, as the devil-may-care Bucky O'Hara, does some of the best work of his career, surpassing his superlative performance in "Brothers Under the Skin." Barbara La Marr, as Camille Lenoir, is cast as an adventuress, as she was in "Trifling Women" and "The Prisoner of Zenda," and she gives a superb performance. Earle Williams, Wallace Beery, Josef Swickard and Anders Randolf complete the excellent cast.

Fights and thrills peppered with romance and adventure, keep the story moving at a great rate. There are splendid fights and a sensational thrilling canoe chase down a rocky gorge through which a river foams and roars. There are real Canadian mountains and forests for backgrounds. When the winter scenes were taken, it was so cold that the camera caught the vapor of the actors' breath.

The story, which is an adaptation of G. B. Lancaster's famous novel, "The Law-Bringers," in an unusual one. And it carries punch every foot of the way, with the tension never lessened up to the thrilling climax. The big thrill is the rescue of the girl and her "man" when the pair are shown shooting the treacherous ra-

Kiddies Are Rocked With Merriment in Jackie Coogan Film

"The greatest Jackie Coogan picture!"

That was the verdict of yesterday's big audiences at the Royal Theatre, where the adorable and celebrated juvenile star was presented in a Sol Lesser production and at the head of a very admirable cast of principals.

The expression of joy on the countenances of those that passed out of the theatre was eloquent of the merriment, the laughter, the chuckles and the occasional tear that had been evoked by a story that tells the adventures of a little runaway boy who joins a circus and remains with it for ten thrilling, perilous, gorgeous weeks.

The truth was not over-stated in the advance notices of "Circus Days." It is indeed a mammoth production—one of the biggest that has ever been screened at a local theatre, yet so intimate and direct is the story as it was directed by Eddie Cline and so personal is its appeal that the proportions of the picture are not oppressive or, perhaps the hero, even realized by the beholder who follows poor Toby Tyler from adventure to adventure and who rejoices in the child whose truancy was inspired by a zeal to help a needy mother.

The mood set by the picture is essentially gay. There is just enough of pathos to serve as contrast, but in no previous picture starring Jackie Coogan have there been so many moments of unbroken laughter, mirth, chuckles and hilarity.

As the peanut and lemonade merchant, little Jackie has a picturesque role, new to admirers of his versatile genius. As a "double" for the tiniest of equestriennes in the world, and dressed in her fluffy skirts, Jackie is a "scream," and finally, as the hero of the sawdust circle, the little actor is adorable. A cast of nearly flawless quality is seen in support of the star—Barbara Tennant, DeWitt Jennings, Cesare Gravini, Peaches Jackson, Sam De Grasse, Clara McDowell, Russell Simpson and others are effective in their various characterizations.

As successor to Jackie Coogan in "Oliver Twist," Jackie in "Toby Tyler" is destined to achieve an even more intimate and coveted place in the affection of the motion picture world, for it is so human, so blithe and so merry.

Gareth Hughes in Torture Scene at Dominion To-day

The strangest task ever given a player in motion pictures has fallen to the lot of Gareth Hughes in Pola Negri's new Paramount star picture, "The Spanish Dancer," which will be the feature at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

Cringing under the lash which falls across his naked back in one of the strongest scenes in this fascinating story of old Spain, Gareth Hughes visualizes the sufferings of one of his own ancestors, who underwent similar torture by officers of the Inquisition. The story has been a tradition in the Hughes family for four centuries—according to the tale—certain David Hughes sailed from Cardiff in 1603 in an English trading ship. The vessel was captured by the Spaniards and taken into Cadiz where Hughes and his companions were tortured by officers of the Inquisition. He was kept in close confinement and died in captivity many years later.

Hughes' role in "The Spanish Dancer" is that of Lazarillo, a prisoner who is sentenced to undergo torture for a slight offence. In his characterization of Lazarillo, Hughes reacts to the grim tragedy which befell his long dead ancestor. "The Spanish Dancer" is Pola Negri's third American made picture.

"The Shock" Is Powerful Picture Carrying Thrills

A bank bombed in the night; the heroine at the scene of disaster buried beneath the debris of falling bricks and lumber; the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 coming just in time to save the most trying of all situations—these are a few of the exciting scenes to be viewed in the Universal Jewel production of "The Shock," now at the Columbia Theatre. Lon Chaney as Jack Cooper, the spoiled son of the small town's rich man, has a role that makes one like and dislike him by degrees.

Mischa Hadley as played by William Welsh, brings a genuine characterization of the poor weeping in the hands of an adventuress; Cooper, Sr., the father of Jack, is portrayed by Henry Barrows and Christine Mayo as Anne Vincent, the head of the gang, gives an impersonation that is so realistic that one wants to hate her enthusiastically; Harry DeVere, John Beck and Walter Long will be remembered long after they have gone from the screen. Lombardi-Hillyer directed the picture. The Charles Kenyon continuity of the William Dudley Pelley story.

EARTHQUAKE LECTURE AT ST. COLUMBA

Last evening, under the auspices of the Young People's Society of St. Columba Church, Mr. Napier Denison, Victoria's celebrated meteorologist, gave a most instructive and entertaining lecture on "Earthquakes."

Mr. Huxtable operated the lantern. In his lecture, Mr. Denison showed by means of pictures the machinery which is required in order to record the tremors and showed photographs of the lines taken after several of the recent earthquakes near and far. He explained also the formation of the earth's surface.

Solos were rendered by Miss Johnstone, Mrs. Le Fevre and Mr. Rodie, Miss Clarke acting as accompanist. A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Rev. J. H. White, to Mr. Denison, Mr. Huxtable and those taking part in the programme. Mr. Marshall was chairman of the evening.

Last of Successful Mystery Thrillers Billed for Royal

"The Cat and the Canary," the three-act play which comes to the Royal Victoria for two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, November 28-29, appears to be about the last of the successful mystery plays. This is the first view which home-staying playgoers will have of the drama which has set all the eastern seaboard and central states by the ears for the past two years. No other play of this type, and there have been many of them, has had such an adroit blending of romance, comedy and drama as John Willard has worked into the latest and most diverting of the thrillers. "Naturally" the story of "The Cat and the Canary," bears no relation to other plays of the sort and the yarn about the lovely young heiress and the trials through which she passes before she comes into her inheritance, is one that is thoroughly possible. For the matter of that, the Bell Will Case, which is recalled by the presence of a character called "Mummy Pleasant" in the play, had many more queer and unusual things related in the course of its testimony than ever occurs in "The Cat and the Canary." Mr. Willard made his success for the first time as a writer of long plays with "The Cat and the Canary," but he is no less a stage writer for he has many clever vaudeville sketches to his credit. Kilbourn, Gordon, Inc., are sending an excellent cast here to enact "The Cat and the Canary."

TO BRING OKANAGAN FRONT TO VICTORIA

Chamber of Commerce Behind Scheme to Popularize B.C. Products

Thirty-four boards were represented at the Association of Boards of Trade Convention at Vancouver and complete harmony prevailed. President C. P. W. Schwenker in his report on the convention, at the directors' meeting yesterday, the outstanding feature was the report of Captain Melville Dollar, on fruit growing in the Okanagan and efforts to find satisfactory markets for the crops. The president hoped that some move would be made to get the support and co-operation of Vancouver Island with the Okanagan. It was gratifying that the Victoria resolutions which were brought forward were endorsed by the convention.

He suggested that some move should be made to bring the Okanagan growers in touch with wholesaler here for the marketing of fruit which was not grown by island growers. The chairman was instructed to appoint a committee to secure the report of Capt. Dollar.

Mr. Griffiths supporting the idea, said that the directors should encourage people to be alive to provincial interests before that of foreign fruit.

Mr. Griffiths presented a report on the potato show held during the week which he described as a great success.

RAISE OBJECTIONS TO TRANSIENT TRADERS

Retailers Present Resolution at Directors' Meeting

Retail merchants objections to transient traders invading the city were set forth in a resolution read at the Chamber of Commerce directors' luncheon yesterday. The resolution read:

"Whereas the continued and increasing visits to the city of transient traders is proving to have a decidedly detrimental effect upon the general business of our local merchants;

"And whereas it is generally agreed that the City Council should do all in their power to discourage these traders.

"Therefore be it resolved, that this Chamber of Commerce is ready and willing to support them in an application to the Provincial Government for power to increase the maximum trades license fee for transient traders.

NEW MANAGER COMES TO CITY

That the B.C. Automobile Association has taken a new lease of life was stated by T. J. Furnivall, the newly appointed general manager, who met some of the Victoria members at the Dominion Hotel.

Mr. Furnivall explained the situation occasioned by J. R. Sigmores' retirement from the general direction of the institution, and the reconstruction of the Board of Directors at the meeting in Vancouver, on November 7. He stated that full service, with all the pledges made to members, had now been re-established in Vancouver.

It is proposed to have a basket social and dance for ladies of the association to take place in Victoria early in December. Bi-weekly luncheons are now being held in Vancouver for case or if you prefer you can order direct from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. (Adv.)

EMPRESS OF INDIA FOR JUNK YARD

One Time Palatial C.P.R. Empress Liner is no More

The former Canadian Pacific liner Empress of India has been broken up for junk, it was announced at the local office of the C.P.R. this morning. The Empress of India, later the Indian steamship Loyalty, was broken up as junk at Bombay, according to information received from Lloyds by its former owners.

This ship, once the pride of the Pacific, and a sister ship to the liner Empress of Japan, was sold to an Indian Prince in 1914 at the outbreak of the war, fitted as a hospital ship, and presented to the British Government.

She served through the war on the Mediterranean and then was turned back to the Indian Prince, who used her as a yacht, then disposed of her to a syndicate.

She went on a passenger and freight service. Her engines were neglected and finally she was condemned by boiler inspectors. She lay in Bombay for sale, for many months, and finally it was decided to junk her.

The engines of the Empress of Japan, similar to those of the India, and of the same age, are now in excellent condition.

PRAIRIE VISITORS REACH CITY EARLY

Early Reports Point to Record Winter Tourist Season

Prairie visitors are arriving in Victoria in good numbers ahead of the usual time, hotel men report, and from enquiries made it is generally anticipated that there will be more tourists making Victoria their winter haven from the rigors of a prairie winter than any other previous year.

Victoria is being extensively advertised in the prairies. Publicity is carried in most of the newspapers in the farmers' journals and other organs. The service clubs and public libraries have been supplied with literature, also the ticket agents of the C.P.R. and the C.N.R. The mayors and aldermen of each city have received literature and thousands of personal invitations to farmers have gone out from the Publicity Bureau. In view of the efforts put forward to draw the prairie people the early results are regarded as most gratifying.

The prosperity resulting from the wonderful crop this year will help Victoria by the extra numbers that will come for the winter. Writing from Edmonton, Frank E. Fayson, Pacific Coast representative of The Edmonton Journal, and other prairie papers, states: "During the past week or ten days the banks have found that people are turning in their money. This means the farmer has begun to realize on his crop. The crop this year instead of averaging twelve bushels in the acre is averaging thirty-two bushels, and when you figure that on a two hundred acre ranch, the same amount of seed has been sown as last year, and they are almost tripling the production per acre, you can imagine what it means to Alberta. It has been figured that this means an additional $500 to every farmer in the province."

TARIFF HAMPERS EUROPEAN DEBT

New York, Nov. 20.—The present tariff rates hamper Europe greatly in her efforts to pay United States debts by shipping goods to this market, Benjamin Anderson, economist of the National Bank, declared in an address yesterday before the Academy of Political Science.

"It has become increasingly clear to bankers that Europe can pay her debts to us only if she is allowed to send goods here, sell the goods in our markets and turn the proceeds over in dollars to her creditors here," he concluded.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Further light on the much-discussed recognition of St. Joseph's Hospital as a public hospital is given in a letter received at the City Hall from the Provincial Secretary's Department, stating that the recognition dates from April 1, so far as the Department is concerned.

Members of the Life Underwriters' Association of this city, held a well-attended and enthusiastic monthly meeting yesterday in the Elk's Club Rooms. An interesting address was given by General R. P. Clark, in which he took the occasion to thank the life underwriters for the part they had played in the Victoria bond deals.

Among a number of building permits issued is one for the new Sunday School for St. Barnabas Church, at 1490 Ryan Street. Attention is to be given to the roof of the Masonic Temple, Flagstaff Street. Another permit has been issued to Smith Brothers, for alterations at 632 Pembroke Street for warehouse purposes. Several other permits have been issued for contracts under $1,000.

A four-page article by Frank Giolima in "Good Roads," published at Edmonton, contains eight well-selected pictures of Victoria and some valuable publicity at the time when prairie people have in mind the choice of a venue for winter holidays. An alluring picture of Colwood course and an enticing description of this Mecca for golfers is included in the article. Mr. Giolima emphasizes the new title applied to Vancouver Island in all publicity bureau literature, "Victoria and Her Island Kingdom."

Known as inseparable friends, Trustees George McWilliam and John Cheatham, of Saanich, even shared their misfortune on Saturday evening last. While debating school matters the trustees were strolling along Burnside Road in the dusk. So intent did they become in their subject that they failed to notice the approach of a motor car. The car cut the tie of friendship by intruding itself with violence between the pair. Mr. McWilliam sustained painful cuts about the head. Mr. Cheatham was rendered unconscious by a bump on the head. Both suffered from shock. To-day the condition of the victims of the unusual accident was reported as favorable.

CONDITION IMPROVED

On inquiry at the Jubilee Hospital, the condition of Captain Charles E. Clarke, harbormaster, is reported as favorable.

MOTOR MEN ASK CUT IN LICENSE FEES FOR CARS

Reduction Should Follow Gas Tax, They Tell Government

Reduction in motor licenses following the imposition of a gasoline tax was urged upon the Government to-day by a delegation representing the B. C. Automobile Association. The Government has under consideration the whole question of motor licenses and gasoline taxation, the delegation was assured.

The automobile men urged that tourist permits be increased to allow foreign cars to remain in Canada for six months instead of three as at present. Attorney-General A. M. Manson said he would investigate the effect of such a plan on provincial revenues.

Regulations governing the use of spotlights were advocated by the delegation, which asked that motorists be forced to use lighted headlights and the rays to the right. Uniform candle-power bulbs in headlights also were recommended.

BOWSER, FORCING FIRST DIVISION, BEATEN EASILY

Opposition's Drive on Police Reorganization Gets Nowhere

Uniforms Attacked; Bowser First to Need Them, Farris Retorts

When Opposition members of the Legislature started a drive on Attorney-General Manson's plans for re-organizing the Provincial Police yesterday afternoon, they found themselves overwhelmed by the first division of the session—a division in which they could rally only thirteen votes against the Government's twenty-seven. Kenneth Duncan, R. J. Burde and Thomas Menzies, Independent Members, joined with Liberals in supporting the Government's plans.

Thomas Uphill, Labor Member for Fernie, voted with the Opposition but as he left his seat before the division was complete his vote was not counted. With four members absent, the vote stood 27-13 in favor of Mr. Manson's police re-organization bill.

R. H. Pooley, Conservative Member for Esquimalt, started the Opposition attack on the police bill. He protested against Mr. Manson's plan to uniform Provincial Police. This, he said, would be too expensive.

Mr. Manson stated that legislation now before the House does not provide for police uniforms. Money to pay for uniforms, however, has been voted for several years unanimously, he stated.

NO STOOL PIGEONS

J. W. Jones, Conservative Member for South Okanagan, declared that the cost of Provincial Police had risen alarmingly in the last few years. When he spoke of Mr. Manson's "stool pigeons" the Attorney-General replied that his department did not employ "stool pigeons."

"We don't want a semi-military organization in this Province," Mr. Jones declared.

Major Burde, thought that the uniform question was one for experts to decide, but Mr. Uphill asserted that the Provincial Police were satisfactory now without uniforms.

"Pretty soon the Attorney-General will have the Treasury buy him a new uniform with gold buttons and a cocked hat," Mr. Jones declared. He saw in Mr. Manson's plans only an effort to create a gally-uniformed force which would stand attention and salute the Attorney-General as he traveled through the country.

MORAL LECTURES SHRUNK

"He started in office with moral lectures that would have sounded well in a Sunday School, but all this has shrunk to a gold band on the arm of a policeman!" Mr. Bowser exclaimed.

Mr. Bowser said that he, as Attorney-General, had handled without a uniform force, more serious problems than those existing to-day. "Those were days of crime!" Mr. Bowser boasted.

"You bet they were!" Liberal Members laughed.

When the laughter subsided Mr. Bowser went on to argue that if Provincial Police were uniformed they would be unable to do secret service work and the cost of "stool pigeons" service would be increased. This secret cost $145,000 last year, he stated.

"I don't see where we have got results from that expenditure," he declared and added that Mr. Manson was administering liquor laws just as badly as J. W. de B. Farris, the former Attorney-General.

RECALLS NANAIMO STRIKE

The Legislature already had adopted the principle of police uniforms, Mr. Farris asserted. The Opposition had not voted against appropriations for uniforms, he said, and this money was ready to be used for that purpose now.

"The Leader of the Opposition boasts that he did not need uniformed men," Mr. Farris jibed, "but he was the first Attorney-General who ever had to call on uniforms to uphold law and order," he added, referring to the Nanaimo strike.

Mr. Bowser replied that the militia had been used in a strike in Stevenson long before his time, but Mr. Farris insisted that the circumstances were quite different then. Mr. Bowser, he declared, was the first to use uniformed men to uphold the law.

TO INTERVIEW CANDIDATES

The Retail Merchants' Association here this afternoon named the executive as a committee to interview four well-known citizens, three of whom are in business, and one was for a great many years, to invite them to stand for aldermen on a business ticket. From the list it is proposed to support two candidates to be elected to-morrow. The association also went on record in favor of the Jubilee Hospital Drive.

LAW TO CLARIFY CHURCH TAXATION

Legislation which will clarify the position of municipalities in connection with church taxation, will be introduced at the present session of the Legislature, Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General, announced to-day. Recent decisions of the Privy Council in church taxation cases have not made the position of cities quite clear and the Government is anxious to let municipal councils know just where they stand in the matter.

NO OTHER SIDE, SO COMMITTEE HALTED

The House Committee on Public Accounts, which has public expenditure to investigate all the way from liquor to P.G.E., has not got down to work yet.

Yesterday, when the committee was scheduled to meet, there was no quorum under Mr. Bowser showed up at 10:30 o'clock in the public accounts' room, but there were no Liberals in the room. Rev. Thomas Menzies, Independent Member for Comox, was on hand both sides together and start the investigating at 10:30 o'clock to-morrow.

Authority Will Lecture To-night on Drug Traffic

Rev. J. Richmond Craig, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, has become widely known as an authority on the narcotic problem and the treatment of addicts. In his community educational church in Vancouver, Mr. Craig has succeeded in establishing an improvised hospital for the treatment of drug addicts, and during the past year about fifty victims of the narcotic traffic were treated there. Mr. Craig's lecture, "The Story of a Dope Fiend," which is based on his experiences combating the drug traffic, is said to be one of the most thrilling lectures ever given in British Columbia. Mr. Craig is to address a meeting at Centennial Church to-night at 8:30, delivering this lecture to the radio audience as well as to the congregation in the church. An especially fine programme of arias from the popular operas will be rendered by Thomas Kelway and Ernest Butterworth prior to the lecture. In addition to several solos each, Mr. Kelway and Mr. Butterworth will sing the celebrated duet, "Si Pei Ciel" from "Bohème." Special seating will be provided if necessary for the large crowd which is expected at the meeting.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

A lecture, illustrated by lantern slides, will be given in the auditorium of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening commencing at eight o'clock by the Rev. J. Williams Ogden, of Vancouver. The subject of the lecture is "From Italy, Through Egypt to Australia," and a continuation of the lecture given by Mr. Ogden early in October in which "Pompeii" was the subject.

Arrangements have been made for a short recital preceding this lecture with Jesse Longfield at the organ and Miss Anita Holt assisting with violin solos. Tickets may be obtained from the following: Weiler Bros, Mutrie's Shoe Store, George Brown, F. W. Francis or from Little & Taylor. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the choir, and the proceeds will go towards the organ renovation.

CONFER HERE ON FUTURE OF MILL

Rebuilding Plans For the Chemainus Plant Under Discussion

To discuss the future of the Chemainus Mill, T. J. Humbird, of Spokane, representing the Weyerhaeuser interests in the Northwest, arrived in the city this afternoon to meet E. J. Palmer, general manager of the Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company. Mr. Palmer, who was called from Victoria on Saturday to the fire, returned late yesterday afternoon from Chemainus and awaited the arrival of Mr. Humbird, whom he had planned to meet in Tacoma.

Until this conference has taken place Mr. Palmer said to The Times to-day that he was unable to make any statement. In view of the large number of persons displaced, considerable anxiety prevails with regard to the rebuilding plans, on which it is hoped an announcement will be shortly made.

Meanwhile the adjusters for the insurance companies which were interested in the risk arrived from Vancouver to-day, and proceeded to the mill. It is expected that the adjustment will occupy from a week to ten days. It was stated by the representative of one of the largest policies that the mill property was pretty well covered by insurance.

MACLEAN GIVES HOSPITAL MEN NO HOPE OF INCREASE

Government Already Making Higher Grants Than Elsewhere, He Says

No hope that the Provincial Government will increase grants to hospitals was held out by Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary, to-day to a delegation from the British Columbia Hospital Association.

Dr. MacLean told the delegation that the British Columbia Government is more generous in hospital administration than the governments of prairie provinces. He pointed out that the British Columbia Government grants a total of $40 per day per patient towards hospital maintenance, as compared with $30 granted by the prairie provinces and $30 and $35 granted by eastern provinces. British Columbia, he added, is the only province aiding in the erection of hospitals.

The hospital delegates presented resolutions passed by their association at its recent convention in Penikese. They emphasized their proposal that the Government substitute a grant of 50¢ per day per patient for the present grant of 25¢ per patient from liquor profits. The Government also was asked to set a date on which municipalities could admit or repudiate responsibility for patients admitted to a hospital. It was suggested that fourteen days would be a suitable period for this purpose. At present hospitals have no protection in this regard, it was stated.

Exemption of legacies to hospitals from succession duties also was urged by the delegation.

While not holding out any hope for an increased hospital grant, Dr. MacLean assured the delegation that all other proposals would be considered. The hospital delegates consisted of Charles Graham, president of the Hospital Association; George Haddon, vice-president; E. S. Withers, J. J. Banfield, R. J. Burns, S. Brown and George McGregor.

Duncan Shows Squad Way To Beat Cougars

Maroons, Without Mickey MacKay, Come Back Savagely and Upset Victoria Violently; Duncan Scored Three Goals Himself, Enough to Humble Blue and Gold Sextette; Victoria's Lone Goal Scored by Fredericksen on Penalty Shot

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Without the services of Mickey MacKay, Art Duncan's Maroons went out last night and made the Victoria Cougars look like a lot of bush leaguers for the major part of the game at the arena. The final score was 7-1, but only superb goalkeeping by Norman Fowler kept the score as low as it was. For two periods the teams displayed a really good brand of hockey, but in the final stanza, although Victoria tried hard there was only individual effort which counted for little. This is very clearly indicated by the scoring summary, which shows only one assist in eight goals. Effective combination plays were at no time prominent.

Instead of being tail-enders Vancouver ties with the Cougars for second position each having a win and two losses. Before the game Captain Art Duncan gave the players a heart-breaking talk which the help took very seriously judging by the manner in which they back-checked and stick-handled their way through the Victoria line times without number.

It is interesting to note that by actual count the Maroons had the best of direct shots on goal by twenty with a total of sixty-eight against Victoria's forty-eight. This means only shots which the goalkeeper saved. In the first period Vancouver shot thirty-three times against Victoria's nineteen, in the next which developed the most scientific hockey of the night, it was seventeen to sixteen and in the last the home team had the best of it by eighteen to thirteen.

DUNCAN WAS STAR

The outstanding star of both teams was Captain Art Duncan who by lone effort scored three goals, two in the first period and the third after twelve minutes of play in the second. Spectacular not-minding of the goal by several other markers, Duncan was a stonewall to the opposition and everyone of his allies into enemy territory threw a scullie into the invaders' camp. Cook made his first appearance on home ice and gave a good account of himself. Duncan now leads the league scorers with five points. Fredericksen comes next with four, while Halderson, Foyston and Harris have three each.

Another feature of the match was the penalty shots for tripping, the offenders being Duncan and Halderson. Fredericksen scored the first of the league season, from the centre penalty area after he had carried the puck nearly six feet over the line. When Duncan was tripped by Halderson, Bostrom was rushed from the bench and placed a bullet-like shot behind Fowler for the Maroons' fifth score.

The first period was two minutes old when Vancouver scored. Skinner had tested Fowler with a great shot, the latter had saved and three of his team mates had charged down the ice, when Cook stopped the rush and returned the attack on Fowler. The puck rebounded off the goalie and Cook scored easily.

DUNCAN STARTS SCORING

It was nine minutes later before the locals scored again and this time Duncan was the man who put the puck in the net. He had twice previously forced his way through the Victoria defence only to miss the haven in sensational fashion. At the third attempt he was more successful. All of the three rushes were staged single-handed and were started from in front of the Vancouver goal. Duncan scored his second and his team's third less than two minutes later in similar fashion.

After this Matte, Gibson and Meekling were chased to the fence in a quick succession for tripping Fredericksen, Boucher and Parkes respectively.

Victoria lived up a little at the start of the second period and Lehman made two goals. Directly afterwards Duncan missed another great chance after he had forced his way to within three feet of Fowler. Lehman saved again in a quick succession for tripping Fredericksen, Boucher and Parkes respectively. Victoria lived up a little at the start of the second period and Lehman made two goals. The Victoria seemed powerless to arrest his progress and there were three men in his path. Three minutes later Victoria scored its only tally. Fredericksen tripping from a penalty shot, taken from the centre spot mark after he had been the victim of a bad trip by Cotch. Just prior to this goal, Bostrom had been banished for clubbing the net with his stick. Anderson and Loughlin tested Lehman with good shots in the closing stages of the period.

After two minutes in the third period Duncan was tripped by Halderson as he was going through and Bostrom was called from the bench to take the shot from the penalty spot. He made no mistake with a long low drive. Four minutes later Cook and Boucher combined for a rush, the former passing at the right moment and Boucher completing the good work. Matte scored a seventh, twenty-four seconds later. He staged a single-handed rush the length of the ice, hit Fowler with a hard shot and following up, batted in the rebound.

Broad Street Out To Lower Colors Of the Teamsters

Team Determined to Put First Defeat Against League Leaders' Record

Cranleigh and Bays to Play Other Wednesday League Game To-morrow

Two fast games are scheduled in the Wednesday Football League to-morrow afternoon. At the Royal Athletic Park the Broad Street eleven will lock horns with the league-leading Teamsters. It does not matter to the drivers as beaten, they will still retain the premier seat, but Broad Street by winning would advance into second position. While these two teams are fighting for the honors, Cranleigh House will play the Hulsan's Bay at Beacon Hill.

YOUNGSTERS CONFIDENT

In the second game Cranleigh House will be right out after the scalps of the Bays as a win for the students will put them on even terms with the department store team. With a chance like that staring them in the face, the schoolboys think it is high time that they came out of the cellar-berth. They have practiced considerably during the past week and are full of confidence for the match.

The Wednesday League has secured a great hold on soccer loving fans in the city, and all their games are well patronized. To-morrow, it is expected a good crowd will turn out to witness the two matches. The game at the Royal Athletic Park should be one of the best that has been played in the league this season.

The games for to-morrow are as follows:
Broad Street vs. Teamsters at the Royal Athletic Park at 2:30 p.m.; referee, Oliver.
Hulsan's Bay vs. Cranleigh House at Beacon Hill at 2:45 p.m.; referee, Alcock.

The Hudson's Bay team will line up as follows: Shrimpton, Gardener, Richardson, Oles, Sewell, Woodley, Carey, Butler, Creighton, Muir, Vetch, McKay, Wilkinson and Hawkes. Players are requested to be on the ground at 2:15 p.m.

The Teamsters will line up as follows: Clark, Hay, Land, Lynn, McKinnon, Rowan, Abercrombie, Speak, Smyth, Davis and Hatherhill. Reserves, Gilbert, Cartwright and Lovatt. Players are asked to note that the game is called for 2:30 instead of 3, as formerly.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—Joseph Mackenzie, while watching the football game Saturday between Minnesota and Iowa, snatched off his hat and waved it so hard he broke it when Minnesota made the first touchdown.

GLACE BAY BOY LOSES

McClure, of Boston, defeated Johnny McIntyre, of Glace Bay, welterweight champion of the maritime provinces here last night. In the semi-final Billy Goff, of Winnipeg, easily defeated Billy Smith, of Scotland.

NOT ENOUGH ACTION

Quebec, Nov. 20.—Horace Jones, of Toronto, and Young Jack Johnson, of Toronto, both had half their purses withheld last evening by the Quebec Boxing Commission for their showing in a ten-round bout here last night. The bout was twice stopped on account of lack of action.

MISS EDERLE IN ACTION

What Ruth is to baseball, Zev to the turf, Hoppe to billiards, Barrymore to the drama—Gertrude Ederle, sixteen-year-old New York mermaid, is to swimming.

The greatest ever to swim. If any doubts ever existed as to the positive genius of the youngster her performance in sprinting away from the 100, 200 and 400-meter events, setting new open water standards of 1:12 1-5, 2:42 2-5 and 5:54 2-5, respectively. The former records were 1:12 4-5, 2:49 1-5 and 6:00 1-5.

The races were conducted under the same conditions that will prevail at the Olympic games next summer. Miss Ederle will be America's chief reliance in the 1924 free style swims. It is confidently expected that she will establish herself as the world's undisputed all-round swimming champion at the great international games. In the United States, her native land, she is already accepted as such.

Laughing Eyes Are Searching Champion Bout

Critics Cannot See Why McTigue and Tunney Are Fighting For Title

New York, Nov. 20.—Without cracking even so much as a faint shadowy smile, Mike McTigue and Gene Tunney will fit into the Madison Square Garden arena at an early date and discuss the world's light heavyweight problem with smartly upholstered leather gloves. At present both of these distinguished business leaders are laid up with busted hands. How two such light tappers ever acquired maimed mittens is one of the mysteries of the age.

McTigue's wallop carry all the force of a humming bird's kick, and Tunney is one of the few persons in the world who can land a full punch on a lemon meringue pie without denting the surface.

REA AMUSING
To those who appreciate rare humor the battle between McTigue and Tunney for a world's title should be enormously amusing. It is a question who deserves a bigger laugh out of it than Tommy Gibbons and Harry Greb. Gibbons can "take" either McTigue or Tunney any time he wants to, and Greb has already demonstrated his ability to handle Gibbons.

McTigue won what is facetiously accepted as the world's title by beating Siki in Dublin some months ago. It was one of those bouts that cause the serious-minded observer to wonder why people go to so much trouble to popularize boxing.

Tunney became the American titlist by defeating Greb. Nobody agreed that he defeated Greb except the two judges. It was distinctly a questionable decision. A less courteous person would call it worse than that.

Whether McTigue beats Tunney or vice versa the fight will prove nothing out of it than Tommy Gibbons and Harry Greb. Gibbons can "take" either McTigue or Tunney any time he wants to, and Greb has already demonstrated his ability to handle Gibbons.

Queen's and Tigers Play Saturday and Victor Meet Caps

Toronto, Nov. 20.—With the Hamilton Rowing Club, the Ontario Union representatives, eliminated from the running for the senior rugby championship of Canada, the competition for the Earl Grey Cup is now narrowed down to Hamilton Tigers, Queen's University and Regina. Tigers and Queen's meet at Kingston this coming Saturday and the winner will meet Regina for the honors.

Queen's are favored to defeat Tigers this week, and then carry on with a win over Regina to retain the Dominion title. A report was issued to the effect that the champions were not desirous of meeting Regina, the reason being that the Queen's players want to get back to studies and the society folk, sportsmen and race followers present.

Mr. Kilmer hopes Extremator may win the $40,000 Coffer-hands-cup, the $10,000 Tia Juana cup and other stakes here this winter and thereby exceed in earnings the American record mark now held by Zev and Man o' War, to whom he is runner up.

POLO GAME ATTRACTIVE

The greatest interest will be taken in the polo games. This is the first time that indoor polo has been played here and they should be plenty of thrills. The club hopes to build up a polo team that will be able to make a strong bid against the Vancouver and Kamloops teams for the British Columbia championship.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor has consented to formally open the show which will be the first of its kind held here since the pre-war days. The programme will be as follows: Musical chairs, individual riding (including bending competition), horsemanship (school), indoor polo, Navy vs. Army, winners to play R.C.M.P. Vancouver: thoroughbred hunter class, individual jumping, jumping pairs, Corinthian class, high jumping, arms display by Army, a display by Navy.

Siki Making His Debut in America Ring This Evening

New York, Nov. 20.—Battling Siki, the Senegalese who wrested the title of world's light-heavyweight champion from Georges Carpentier, makes his American ring debut to-night at Madison Square Garden in a fifteen-round match with Kid Norfolk. Both expect to make 175 pounds by this afternoon and the victor will claim to the negro light heavyweight championship. Siki has undergone strenuous training for the match.

Siki's appearance has aroused considerable interest, but critics believe that in Norfolk, a hard-hitting negro, the Senegalese will be put to a severe test. It will be the batter's first important bout since he lost the light heavyweight title on points to Mike McTigue at Dublin last St. Patrick's Day.

TOOTH STOPPED BOUT

Pittsburg, Nov. 20.—A ten-round boxing bout between Sammy Mandell and Cuddy de Marco, scheduled for last night, was called off when the promoters were notified that Mandell had suffered an injury to his jaw while having a tooth pulled.

VICTORIA WINS TENNIS

Melbourne, Nov. 20 (Canadian Press cable).—In the inter-state tennis championship contests Victoria easily defeated New South Wales and Tasmania, but beat South Australia only after a hard struggle.

PAT MORAN TO PILOT CINCINNATI AGAIN

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 20.—Patrick A. Moran, late yesterday signed a contract to continue as manager of the Cincinnati Reds another year.

Looking Things Over

Now that the British Columbia Football Association has disposed of the controversy between the two local soccer bodies, the V.D.F.A. and the Wednesday League, it would be wise for the officials of these rival factions to get together around a table, shake hands and sing "For We're All Jolly Good Fellows." A move of this kind would be in the best interests of the game and demonstrate to the many loyal fans in Victoria that the recent misunderstanding is not to be nursed along and used as a wedge to pry the two associations further apart.

It is unfortunate that such a squabble arose so early in the season, but to err is human. This little part of the world has the immunity to the great truth and from time to time every city, province and nation is stirred by incidents of this kind. They all arise from misunderstanding. In this case there is no reason why the officials interested cannot pat each other on the back and place an eraser on the happenings of the past week. The football season is young and to know that the officials are united and striving to provide the fans with the best possible game, be they on Wednesday or Saturday, or inter-city affairs, will be a great boon to the game.

Chick Evans last $400,000 in the grain market. . . . You might say he overshot the mark. "Hey, get a wiggle on you," shrieked Salome's dad. . . . And that's how the shimmy started.

There are 7,000,000 golfers on this continent, several of whom actually stop to replace divots. If selling Hornsby will help baseball in St. Louis a steady diet of carboles ought to help you live to 100.

Confidence is essential to success in athletics. It stimulates the ambition of the athlete, increases his courage and drives him on. But there is a point where confidence can be carried too far, where it leads to the unity-rating of one's opponents and causes the athlete to slacken off in his training because he knows its a cinch to win. In other words, it turns on the head of the athlete, believed to be invincible.

An air of over-confidence seems to have been built up about the Victoria hockey team. Some folks have gone so far as to think the Victoria championship is coming to Victoria this season. Perhaps it will, we all hope so, any way. But perhaps it would be just as well to put the soft pedal on that kind of music for a time and help the Cougars to win the games necessary to bring that title to the city.

Last night's defeat of the Cougars in Vancouver came as a big surprise. The Maroons put exactly the same line-up on the ice that the Victoria trounced by 5-1 here last Friday. It did not look like an imposing array to the Cougars but before the Maroons had taken a very heavy defeat. Every hockey team in this circuit is going to get some surprises this year. Vancouver got the first in its opening game when Seattle stepped into their rink and beat them 3-2. The Maroons thought the Mets were weak. In other words they underestimated them and did not take precautions until it was too late. Without Mickey MacKay on the line-up last night the Cougars had a figure that would have made the Maroons dangerous. But they were. They won.

The Cougars have a great team this year and are seeking to win a lot of games, but the one thing they must guard against is over-confidence.

LEWIS AND MOORE WIN

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 20.—"Kid" Lewis, local bantamweight, and Pat Moore, of Memphis, Tenn., fought twelve fast rounds to a draw here last night.

B.C. TO HAVE A CONTINUOUS APPEAL COURT

Supreme Court Judge Can Sit on Appeal Court Under New Manson Plan

Rules Governing Law Examinations Changed; Regulations For Bailiffs

New legislation introduced into the Legislature by Attorney-General Manson yesterday afternoon, amends the Court of Appeal Act and provides that where a judge of the Court of Appeal is absent through illness, or other reason, the Chief Justice of the Court of Appeal may apply to the Chief Justice of British Columbia to name a judge to fill the vacancy. The bill will provide for a continuous Court of Appeal the same as the Supreme Court.

Another bill amends the Distress Act and provides that the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may decide in what portions of the Province the sheriff only may act as bailiff.

A great deal of criticism has been directed against the Act as it now stands, the claim being made that anyone may act as bailiff by paying a license.

A third bill, introduced by Mr. Manson, amends the Legal Professions Act. In future only members of the Law Society residing and practising in the Province, may vote at the annual election of officers.

A section of the new act will permit the choosing by the benchers of three representatives to attend the annual convention of the Canadian Law Society.

Another amendment will enable the benchers to hold meetings in Vancouver as well as Victoria.

If the Act passes, solicitors in actual practice in the Province for five years may be admitted to the bar without passing an examination, and barristers after five years continuous practice, may be called as solicitors without passing the examination.

In future, five judges, instead of six as at present, will constitute a quorum of the Court of Appeal sitting on decisions of the benchers.

URGES EXPORT DUTY ON RAW B.C. LOGS

Export of Timber Last Year

Imposition of a substantial export duty on logs shipped out of Canada for manufacture in the United States, was urged in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Kenneth Duncan, Independent Member for Cowichan.

FOR chapped hands, chilblains, cold-sores and frost-bite, there is no treatment so beneficial as dressings with Zam-Buk. His resolution advocating such a duty was held over and will be discussed to-day by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands.

Mr. Duncan admitted that the Government could not stop the export of most of the logs shipped out of British Columbia last year for manufacture in the United States. These logs, he declared, would have kept five sawmills, with a capacity of 125,000 feet a day, busy all the time. This export movement, he said, is increasing. Eight new mills have been built in Puget Sound recently, he stated, and the American lumber industry is turning to British Columbia for its timber supply.

Lumber, Mr. Duncan explained, is worth twice as much as raw timber and he estimated that the Province last year lost $3,000,000 through the export of logs.

SPRUCE AND CEDAR

Thomas Menzies, Independent Member for Comox, in seconding Mr. Duncan's resolution, declared that pulp and paper mills had been built in the United States to cut British Columbia lumber. Export is not confined to hemlock but includes spruce and cedar, he said. Soon, he warned, British Columbia will face Quebec's problem—American paper manufacturers will have built more mills and then will refuse to move them to Canada, insisting that Canadian logs be shipped to them.

"I see this danger to British Columbia ahead," Mr. Menzies declared.

When Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, introduced a bill improving methods of timber conservation, Major R. J. Burda, Independent Member for Alberni, said he would propose that this measure be strengthened in some particulars to prevent the export of unmanufactured logs. He warned the House against the plans of American interests to start a new raid on British Columbia forests and export logs under the camouflage of squared timbers.

HOUSE SPEEDS UP LEGISLATION: MANY BILLS CONSIDERED

Sloan Law Will Put Teeth in Mine Regulations; to Check up Foreign Eggs

The Legislature spent yesterday afternoon wading through new legislation brought down by the Government.

Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, explained that his amendment to the Coal Mines Regulations Act, would provide much heavier penalties for infractions. He thought the new penalties would result in better operating conditions in mines. But even the new penalties would not be as drastic as those in effect in other countries, he said. Little opposition is anticipated to the amendments.

Samuel Guthrie, Socialist Member for Newcastle, adjourned the debate.

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, explained that his act to amend the Land Settlement and Development Act would provide for a re-valuation of soldier settlers' lands at Marquette. A committee, suitable to the veterans and the Courtney Board of Trade, had been appointed to consider land values and it is intended to re-value these lands, in consideration of the fact that farm produce is not worth to-day what it was when the former values were fixed. The Land Settlement Board, he explained, will take mortgages against the properties for the debts owing.

FOREIGN EGGS

The Minister of Agriculture stated, in dealing with the Eggs-marking Act, that British Columbia was now producing sufficient eggs to supply her own demands and this year fifty-two car-loads had been exported. The amendment was to force the marking of American eggs, chiefly because pullet eggs had been coming into British Columbia when American markets needed relief, he said. This had adversely affected markets here.

OUR ANNUAL

Department Managers SALE

Commences Thursday Morning

FIVE Hudson's Bay Stores in British Columbia commence their Department Managers' Sale on Thursday Morning. It is neither a "Hard Time" Sale "Backward Season" Sale, nor an "Overstock" Sale but an event which Hudson's Bay Stores throughout Canada hold annually.

For months past great preparations have been in progress to make it the biggest success of the year. Manufacturers have been invited to co-operate in the matter of price concessions and the extent to which they have responded will be made evident in our advertisements appearing to-morrow and following days.

Of the four big sales held every year our Department Managers' Sale is the best of all, largely owing to the season of the year and the fact that patrons may purchase at very substantial savings, not only their winter requirements but their Christmas gifts as well.

Keen competition exists between the various department managers as to which can offer the biggest bargains and make most friends for their respective departments, and to attain their objectives prices have been cut to the limit.

Read our advertisements daily and be assured that every word is absolutely true, for we allow no department manager to make mis-statements or exaggerate in any way.

See to-morrow's paper for our big double-page advertisement teeming with money-saving bargains.

KING'S COUSIN WEDS SWEDISH CROWN PRINCE.—The wedding of Lady Louise Mountbatten to Crown Prince Adolph of Sweden, which took place in London on November 3, was the biggest social occasion of the English season. It was attended by more European royalty than have assembled in the empire metropolis since the funeral of King Edward. Photo shows the bride and groom leaving Kensington Palace on the way to the wedding.

AIRWAYS.—Top picture shows the Fokker amphibian, capable of landing on land or water. In the middle is the Aeromarine's Santa Maria, which has carried passengers between Detroit and Cleveland for two years. Third photo shows interior of a Fokker cabin. Aeromarine has maintained regular flying schedules for two summers, carrying several thousand passengers without a mishap more serious than a forced landing. In winter months, this air fleet moves south, and operates air ferry service between Florida ports, Cuba and the Bahamas. Comfortable cabins are a feature of the Aeromarine ships. The same is true of the fleet Fokker plans to use. Since 1920, Fokker planes have been used on the following regular European air routes: Amsterdam-London, Amsterdam-Brussels, Paris, Amsterdam-Bremen-Hamburg, Berlin-Moscow, Dantzig-Riga, Vienna-Budapest. More than 2,000,000 miles have been covered by these ships without one fatal accident. Mr. Bruno believes that an all-year-round air service between Cleveland and Detroit is practical and can be operated with the same standard of safety as are the European airways.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Sandman Story For To-night

It was a little girl's playroom, but the handsome soldier boy somehow was left there after the Christmas tree party. And the next night when the magic hour came around he suddenly jumped up and cried out, "Oh, whatever shall I do? I can't find my regiment! My captain will think I am a deserter. Whatever shall I do?"

Soldier Boy was a very handsome doll. He wore a big black hat and a red coat trimmed with gold braid and on his blue trousers there were side bands of the gold braid which fastened under his little black boots.

He had pink cheeks and a cute little mustache and very black eyes. So it was little wonder Celia doll cast glances at the handsome soldier and waited for the magic hour with great expectations, when all the toys could talk.

But instead of joining in the good time the other toys had at that hour Soldier Boy kept saying over and over, "Oh, whatever shall I do? Where is my regiment? I shall be shot as a deserter."

Teddy Bear tried to tell Soldier Boy that everything would be made right and that he had better join the other toys in having a good time. But all the soldier could say was that he would be shot as a deserter. "What is the world is the matter with him?" inquired Calico Cat. "All he seems to be able to talk about is his desertion. I guess Santa Claus must have taken him away from his dinner."

"Oh, he doesn't mean that at all," explained Teddy Bear, who always knew a great deal about everything. "He means that if he is not with his regiment to answer the roll call he will be thought a deserter; that is one who runs away from his regiment. And I am afraid he did not keep close to them. You remember on Christmas Eve one little boy had a lovely regiment of soldiers in a big box and when he gathered them up after the party this soldier must have been lost."

The next night at the magic hour Soldier doll could not be comforted, and the toys were very glad next day to see the little boy who had the soldiers on the Christmas tree come into the playroom and pick up Soldier doll with a glad cry.

"I thought I must have lost him out of the box on my way home," he told the little girl he came to, "and I guess I will play he is a deserter and have him shot."

"Oh, no, please don't do that," said the little girl, beginning to cry. "I shan't let you carry him home unless you promise not to shoot him." And then, because the little girl cried, the little boy promised he would not have him shot, but shut him up in the guard house for while.

"Well, I am glad he has gone," said Calico Cat that night "and I do hope he gets that desertion he talked so much about."

"Calico, I told you he did not mean something to eat; he meant the kind that is a disgrace to a soldier and he is shot for."

"I thought you had to go to war to get shot and that is no disgrace. I thought that was an honor for a soldier. Boys are certainly funny creatures, the way they play. But, anyway, if he is shot he will be killed, and that is all there is to it."

"Calico, you have wheels in your head and there is no use trying to explain anything to you about that soldier."

"I will have you know, Teddy

Edgar and I saw little of each other save at the week's end and then only for a passing moment. As the one entered the front door the other stepped out. The automobile which brought the one carried away the other. As we met, we invariably bowed and spoke. Sometimes we shook hands and just as invariably exchanged glances of inquiry seemingly casual, but in reality, penetrating.

I doubt if he ever saw anything in me to awaken his alarm. But I saw much in him to awaken mine. Though the control he had over his features was remarkable, it is easy for the discerning eye to mark the difference between what is forced and what is spontaneous. The restlessness of an uneasy heart was rapidly giving way in him to more cheerful emotions. His mercurial nature was reasserting itself and the charm he had for a short time lost was to be felt again in all he did and said.

This was what I had expected to happen, but not so soon; and my heart grew more and more heavy as the month advanced. The recurring breaks in his courtship of Orpha, and the presence in his absence of a possible rival with opportunities of unspoken devotion equal to his own, had given zest to a situation somewhat too tame before. From indifference to the game or to what he may have looked upon as such, he began to show a growing interest in it. A great fortune linked with a woman he felt free to court under his rival's eyes did not look quite so undesirable after all.

I may have done him injustice. Jealousy is not apt to be fair. But, if I read him aright, he was just the man to be swayed by the influences I have mentioned, and loving Orpha as I did, I found it hard to maintain even a show of equanimity at what was fast becoming for me a hopeless mystery. It was during these days that the monotony of my thoughts was broken by my hearing for the first time of the presence said to haunt this house. I do not think my uncle had meant me to receive any intimation of it, at least, not yet. He may have given command and he may simply have expressed a wish, or he may have trusted to the good sense of his entourage to keep silence where speaking would do no good. But, let that be as it may, I had come and gone through the house to this day without an idea that its many wonders were not confined to its unusual architecture, its sumptuous appointments and the almost baronial character of its service and generous housekeeping, but extended to that crowning glory of so many historic structures in my own country, of—will not say a ghost, but a presence.

He was not only a little ashamed of himself, and drawing back to let me pass, he stammered apologetically.

"Oh, nothing. Just nonsense, sir; girls will talk, you know, and they told me some queer stories about—about—Will you excuse me, sir; I feel like a fool talking to a man of—"

"Of what? Speak it!"

He looked behind him, and very carefully in the direction of the short passage-way leading to Uncle's room; then whispered:

"Ask the girls, Mr. Bartholomew, or—Miss Wealthy. They'll tell you." And was gone before I could hold him back for another word.

And that night I did ask Miss Wealthy, as he called her; and she, probably thinking that since I knew a little of this matter I might better know more, told me all there was to tell about this childish superstition. She had never had any experience herself with the thing—this is the way she spoke of it—but others had and so the gossip had got about. It did no harm. It never kept any capable girl or man from working in the house or from staying in it year after year, and it need not bother me. It was then I smiled.

I had some intention at the time of speaking to Uncle about this matter, but I did not until the day he himself broached the subject. But that comes later. I must first relate an occurrence of much more importance which took place very soon after this interchange of words with Wealthy.

I was still in C—. Everything had been going on as usual and I thought nothing of being summoned to my Uncle's room one morning at an earlier hour than usual. Nor did I especially notice any decided change in him though he certainly looked a little brighter than he had the day before.

Orpha was with him. She was sitting in the great bay window which opened upon the lawn; he by the fire-side where a few logs were smouldering, the day being damp rather than cold.

He started and looked up with his kindly smile as I approached with the morning papers, then spoke quickly:

for by that name it was known and sometimes spoken of not only where its influence was felt, but by the gossip of the town. The delight of the young and the disdain of the old; for the supernatural makes small things of the American mind when once it has entered into full acquaintance with the realities of life.

Personally I am not superstitious and I smiled when, of this intangible something which was neither seen nor heard but strangely felt at odd times by one person or another moving about the halls. But it was a smile of disdain that of amusement, at the thought of this special luxury imported from the old world being added to the many others by which I was surrounded.

But the person telling me did not smile.

My introduction to this incongruous feature of a building purely modern happened during an accident. It was coming up the stairs connecting the second floor with the one on which my own room was situated when a sudden noise quite sharp and arresting in one of the rooms below stopped me short and caused me to look back over my shoulder in what was a perfectly natural way.

But it did not so strike Bliss the chauffeur who was passing the head of the stairs on his way from Uncle's room. He was comparatively a new comer, having occupied his present position but a few months, and this may have been the reason both for his curiosity and his lack of self-control. Seeing me stop in this way, he took a step down involuntarily in doubt, and gurgled out:

Did—did you feel it? They say that it catches you by the hair and—just in this very spot."

I stared up at him in amazement. "Feel it? Feel what?" And joining hands I surveyed him with some attention to see if he were intoxicated.

He was not only a little ashamed of himself, and drawing back to let me pass, he stammered apologetically.

"Oh, nothing. Just nonsense, sir; girls will talk, you know, and they told me some queer stories about—about—Will you excuse me, sir; I feel like a fool talking to a man of—"

MR. EDMUNDS'S RECITAL

Special to The Times
Cowichan Station, Nov. 19.—On Saturday evening, the well-known Canadian tenor, Victor Edmunds gave a recital to an appreciative audience of over 150 people. Possessing in measure the full qualities of an Operatic Tenor robusto, he combines the repertoire of the lyrical singer. His programme included items to suit all tastes, including old favorites and the newer composers of the present day. In the first part of his fine recital, he sang "The Rose Tree" and "The Swan Song," and his generosity in the matter of encores has marked his recitals throughout.

The accompanist, Mrs. Clifford, was, fulfilled all that could be demanded of such an important contributor to the singer's success and in the second part joined with Mr. Edmunds in a vocal duet. A short dance followed the concert and an excellent supper brought the enjoyable evening to a close. The financial result was satisfactory, nearly $50.00 being realized.

A RINGED COON

Special to The Times
Cowichan Bay, Nov. 19.—A fine specimen of a ringed coon was observed on Wednesday close to the house of Mr. Prichard. It remained in the branches of a maple tree to which a dog had frightened it until despatched by a bullet from Mr. M. Wallace's rifle.

Local mills are suffering from the longshoremen's strike and the results are being felt in this district.

Miss Williams, of Nottingham, England has arrived and is the guest of Mrs. Fall of Hillbank.

Cowichan Station, Nov. 19.—On Saturday evening, the well-known Canadian tenor, Victor Edmunds gave a recital to an appreciative audience of over 150 people. Possessing in measure the full qualities of an Operatic Tenor robusto, he combines the repertoire of the lyrical singer. His programme included items to suit all tastes, including old favorites and the newer composers of the present day. In the first part of his fine recital, he sang "The Rose Tree" and "The Swan Song," and his generosity in the matter of encores has marked his recitals throughout.

The accompanist, Mrs. Clifford, was, fulfilled all that could be demanded of such an important contributor to the singer's success and in the second part joined with Mr. Edmunds in a vocal duet. A short dance followed the concert and an excellent supper brought the enjoyable evening to a close. The financial result was satisfactory, nearly $50.00 being realized.

VETERANS OPEN WAR ON PENSION SLASH

The Tuberculous Veterans' Association are first in the field with a protest at the threatened reduction in pensions through the elimination of the bonus at present included in pension cheques. Claiming that living costs are still high and indicating that they would continue to do so for some time, the association last night passed a resolution:

"That this Victoria branch, Tuberculous Veterans' Association, take immediate steps to prevent the authorities from eliminating any portion of the pensions and allowances now being awarded, and

"That all veteran and public organizations throughout the Dominion of Canada be strongly urged to vigorously oppose any reduction of present awards."

Further, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Dominion Secretary, and the Vancouver Island Council, Dominion Veterans' Alliance."

The chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements in connection with the annual ball to be held tonight at the Alexandra Club, reported favorably regarding sale of tickets, etc.

The meeting commented strongly on the fact that a comrade who recently passed away at the Jubilee Hospital, was laid to rest without a military funeral; and it was decided to have the matter investigated.

COUNCIL PLANS CIVIC ELECTION

Poll Will be Taken on Dec. 13: Criticism of Inefficient Poll Clerks

Steps were taken by the City Council last evening to prepare for the annual election, polling for which will take place on December 13, the nominations being on December 6. William Scowcroft was appointed returning officer, and the poll will be held at the Market Building. The council also named six deputy returning officers. They are: W. B. Orr, E. P. Kay, M. Healy, A. W. Hood, R. Beggs and John Smith.

Alderman Andros stated that the council hoped the Returning Officer, who was present, would get competent help. Some of the clerks could scarcely read, he declared, on recent occasions.

Alderman Woodward said the City Hall should be closed for the day, and use should be made of such trained help.

The Returning Officer agreed that the criticism was warranted, but it was difficult to secure competent assistance from the material offered. The necessary motions for mayor, aldermanic, and police commissioner elections were then adopted.

TWO PLATOON SYSTEM DEBATED

Council Takes Exception to Bills of Capt. Mackenzie's Fire Dept. Measures

Opposition to the inclusion of Victoria in the Bills 18 and 19 of the Legislature, standing in the name of Capt. Ian Mackenzie, M.P.P., to define the duties of fire departments, and the double platoon system, was voiced in the City Council last evening.

The council instructed the clerk to notify the four members for the city that Victoria should be included in the bills, which cover Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Point Grey and South Vancouver, and to explain the situation to Capt. Mackenzie. The solicitor was instructed to oppose the applications.

Alderman Todd led the opposition to the clause and asserted that action was taken without reference to the City Council, which should make an application of it was desired to enforce the city within its scope.

Alderman Sangster seconded a motion which Alderman Todd moved, to notify the city members of the council of the attitude.

DEFENDS FIREMEN

Alderman Woodward declared that he was perfectly fair for firemen to go to the Legislature for protection. Surely it was not going to be stated that nothing could be proceeded with without the consent of the council.

Alderman Todd remarked that the not the firemen a satisfactory agreement with the City of Victoria now?

Alderman Woodward resumed his remarks by stating that the request was a reasonable one, designed to set up by legislation a policy which would not be subject to the changing policy of successive councils.

Alderman Dewar pointed out that plenty of protection was being secured for professional men in the house, but when it came to protect workingmen difficulties were urged on all quarters.

Alderman Todd: "Have the firemen not got what they want here?" Alderman Dewar: "Except the ten days' summer leave, they do not get the weekly day of leave." The alderman said the firemen had previously asked for the privilege, but it was not approved.

Alderman Leeming wanted a report from the fire wardens. They should know what the cost would be, he asserted.

Alderman Dewar: "It is a question whether one single extra man will be required."

Alderman Andros said the fire wardens had considered the subject, and had been unable to concede the weekly rest day. The double platoon system was operating satisfactorily here under voluntary arrangement.

The motion of Alderman Todd was adopted, after Alderman Leeming's amendment calling for a report was rejected. The resolution was then approved. Alderman Woodward and Dewar voting in the negative.

Winnipeg, Man.—"I cannot speak too highly of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a nervous wreck and I just had to force myself to do my work. Even the sound of my own children playing made me feel as if I must scream if they did not get away from me. I could not even speak right to my husband. The doctor said he could do nothing for me. My husband's mother advised me to take the Vegetable Compound and I started it at once. I was able to do my work once more and I was a pleasure, not a burden to my husband. I am now a baby and am able to nurse her and enjoy doing my work. I cannot help recommending such a medicine, and any one seeing me now, can see what it does for me. I am only too pleased for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. EMILY DAVIS, 721 McGee St., Winnipeg, Man.

CLASH ON ISSUE OF EXTENDING STADIUM LEASE

Alderman Woodward Says Some Members of Council Pander to C.P.R.

Mayor Hayward called Alderman Woodward to order last evening when he remarked that certain aldermen were pandering to the Canadian Pacific Railway, during the discussion on the Amusement Centre by-laws.

The Times on Friday stated that the company asked for the extensions to run for twenty years, from December, 1924. It now appears that leases of this character are limited by statute to ten years.

The Mayor said Alderman Woodward was quite wrong in his insinuation because the fact had only just come to light, and was not discovered by anyone at the City Hall, but by the solicitor for the railway company.

Therefore no alderman could be accused justly of concessions because he expressed a wish of the council decided early in the year. The council thereupon decided to have the matter cleared up in the private bill.

However, before this was done, Alderman Woodward said he would not withdraw his remark that "the change had been sprung on the council."

It was in keeping with the effort announced on Friday to bring on a special election in the interests of the by-laws before December 13, he asserted.

When it was explained that the general principle of leases from councils to private individuals was involved in the amendment of the law, Alderman Woodward gave a parting shot that it was lifting a time-honored safeguard.

AGAIN CRITICAL

The feeling which usually shadows an appeal to the electors again broke out when Alderman Todd, who had earlier in the evening defended the extension of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway with regard to the period for the railway span of the new harbor bridge, to be closed for the use of trains.

Alderman Todd declared for the letter of the agreement of 1919, while Alderman Woodward failed to see what the council should be bound by, had settlements of the past?

The council, after going over the arguments for and against the new bridge, approved by the Railway Board, determined to be represented at the hearing here next week of the application, but decided not to take formal action to resist the use of the bridge for passenger train purposes, should the company find it necessary.

LABORERS' PAY

Alderman Woodward declared that in spite of laborers' pay being set at $3.75 early in the year, the city was employing men at Elk Lake at $2.25 a month.

The usual wage policy of the council prevailed, but accepted a suggestion to take the subject up with the department responsible.

TO BUY DEBENTURES

The purchase of the following debentures was authorized, $3,000 City of Victoria 4½ per cent debentures maturing January 21, 1938, payable Canada and New York, at $9.88 and accrued interest, by-laws 1466 and 1467.

$4,000 City of Victoria 4½ per cent debentures, maturing July 3, 1943, payable Canada and New York, at $7.96 and accrued interest, by-law 192, both from R. P. Clark & Company, Victoria payment and delivery, yield approximately 5.50.

The council also agreed to purchase from the Royal Financial Corporation $100,000 worth of Dominion of Canada 5½ per cent Victory Bonds, maturing November 1, 1924, for 100.37. These bonds are payable in Canada, and yield 5.16½. The city had $100,000 in sinking funds it wished to invest, and the above was the best offer made by local bond dealers.

OAK BAY COUNCIL PROTESTS PAYMENT OF HOSPITAL BILLS

The Oak Bay Council decided last night that the municipality would strongly protest against the payment of contributions towards the upkeep of St. Joseph's Hospital, seeing that the municipality had no representation on the directorate of that institution.

The council recognized the fact that the hospital was doing wonderfully good work, but did not desire itself as a body obligated in any way to spend the people's money in payment of bills incurred by residents of the municipality while they were in the care of the hospital authorities.

The hospital had asked the council to make a convenient time for the settling of the accounts of Oak Bay residents.

In putting the motion before the council last night whereby protest was voiced, Councillor Moore stated that public money should not be contributed to a body over which the contributing public had no control.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to the Premier, the leader of the Opposition and the Provincial Secretary.

Look on the top of Gonzales Hill, three in number, will be set aside as a park by the municipality in the near future. This land reverted to the municipality during the recent tax sale.

The treasurer's report stated that the municipality had sufficient funds on the debit side, there will remain in sinking funds a surplus of over $2,000.

The report further stated that, after paying the interest accumulated on the debentures, there will remain in sinking funds a surplus of over $2,000. After some discussion the council went on record as being opposed to the establishment of a juvenile court here.

The councilors thought that when youthful offenders were called before such a court they would know that they would probably get off with light punishment.

Two lots adjacent to the Monterey school will be cleared to make a larger playground for the children attending that institution, the council decided.

FAILS TO AGREE ON TAX EXEMPTIONS

Council Will Make no Further Application to House on Question

By a vote of six to four aldermen last evening in City Council declined to touch by any motion the vexed question of removing the exemptions from taxation of churches, hospitals, orphanages, Government property and similar institutions. An amendment to restrict the application to church exemption was also rejected.

There is already agreed to a clause to adjust the present difficulty with the churches.

Some aldermen believed that it would be impossible to get the Dominion Government to allow the abolition of exemption, and the Provincial Government had already been asked to make a grant in lieu of taxation here, it was pointed out.

Under the circumstances, the application for a change will be made.

VITAL STATISTICS

There were eighty-six births, forty-five deaths and twenty-nine marriages in the month of October, the city medical health officer reported. This shows a death rate per 1,000 of 13.3 and a birth rate of 26.6. The marriage rate on the same basis is 8.9.

The threatened outbreak of an epidemic last month was held in check, Dr. A. G. Price reported, the number of infectious diseases in the month being limited to ten of scarlet fever, four of smallpox and one of diph-

Health Rundown?

Health Restored
Mrs. F. F. Malcolm, Lucknow, Ont., writes:—

"My system became run down and I was very nervous. I was easily irritated and any trivial matter or noise from the children would upset my nerves. I also suffered from indigestion, and often gas would accumulate in my stomach, causing great distress. For about a year I was unable to attend any kind of gathering or be in a crowd, my nerves were so bad. In fact, it would be difficult to outline fully just how I felt. I called on the Doctor, and took the medicine he gave me, but did not seem to improve. One day I read of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and what it was doing for other people suffering from nervousness. I resolved to try it, and by the time I had taken three boxes, I could notice an improvement. I continued this treatment until I had taken nine boxes. By this time I felt real well and strong again. All my old troubles and symptoms had been removed, and I felt like a new woman. Since then, I usually keep Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house, and when I feel the least bit run down or fagged out, I take a few more. By following this plan, I keep strong and healthy."

There is scarcely a community in this great country but can produce evidence to the unique quality of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of forming new, rich blood, strengthening the nerves, and building up the system generally.

Try it when you are tired out and discouraged. Try it for sleeplessness and irritability. Try it for nervous headaches and indigestion.

It is not a mere relief, and for this reason you must persevere in its use until the lost vigor is restored to the nerves. The fact that the results are thorough and lasting will encourage you to keep up the use of the Nerve Food until you feel strong and well.

You are not experimenting when you employ this great reconstructive agent, but can turn to it with confidence that what has restored the health and vigor of many thousands of men and women will not fail you.
